

Ottawa Conference First Step Toward Economic Recovery

Says Howard Lewis in Address Before Members of Kiwanis Club on Thursday—Says Nations Will Adjust Themselves.

Strengthening the belief that the Ottawa Conference, recently held in Canada for the purpose of creating more favorable trade relations between England and her colonies, was the first big step toward the return of the world to a more satisfactory economic relationship, which would eventually bring about a condition wherein there would be less impediment to the natural flow of goods between countries of the world, Howard Lewis, an official of the Kelvintown Company, brought a stirring and logical message to members of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday noon, in one of the best addresses that members of the club have been privileged to hear this year.

Proceeding the address two quarters completed for honors. The first group composed of Robert Service, Dr. Frank Eastman, Raymond Groses and Edward Roseberry, sang under the title of "The Herpicide Boys," and were edged out for first honors by R. Fred Childers, Charles Snyder, Harry Halverson and Clarence Rowland, who rendered their music in such a noble manner as to receive a shower of peanuts from the listeners.

Dr. F. W. Holcomb and L. R. Ottman of Greenwich were guests of the club, and Clayton Finger was introduced as a new member. It was announced that the meeting Thanksgiving week would be held with the Rotary Club on Wednesday.

Recently Returned
Dr. Raymond S. Crispell, chairman of the program committee, introduced the speaker, saying that he had returned from London on Wednesday, where he had conferred with business men of Europe and was able to give "red hot" news of events there. Mr. Lewis, it was explained, was a resident of Ulster county, but that business required that he make two trips abroad each year and that he spend several months in Europe in the interests of his company.

In opening his address on "Conditions in Europe," the speaker said that the viewpoint of the visitor must be considered, and that as many different pictures of the situation there as were presented could be presented, probably all of them right. "I am of course interested in business and industry," he said, "and the commercial aspects of the situation are of greatest interest to me. I will speak from this point of view," said the speaker.

Tackling the English situation, Mr. Lewis explained that the Ottawa Conference had created "mutual interest between England and her colonies" which had in turn brought about a relationship of states to one another rather than the usual colonial-mother country condition. The speaker predicted that this was the beginning of a similar relationship with other nations which he believed would be one of the most constructive forces toward peace among nations of the world.

English Recovering
England, he explained, was a country of basic industries a few years ago, and referring to the depression, "basic industries are all in trouble." Within a short time past a number of "specialty manufacturers" had begun business in the London area, and these industries are very prosperous. It was his opinion that in the London area there was "more industrial prosperity than anywhere else in the world."

Comparing two recent automobile shows Mr. Lewis found that in Paris a "high tariff had protected auto manufacturers so that little improvement had been made upon cars, except for a few minor changes; but that in London great strides had been accomplished, especially in coach work, and that a spirit of optimism was present. "This show reflected the new spirit in British industry," he said.

France, he explained, had yet to feel the depression because "ideal conditions face them," the relation of the people and agriculture and manufacturing. This condition with high prices prevailing has caused France to want to be let alone, and she now has few friends among the nations of Europe because of her attitude, continued Mr. Lewis. "It is the opinion of bankers that France will feel the depression this winter, and will then have a much more sympathetic attitude toward her sister nations," stated the speaker.

Mr. Lewis then pointed that Germany with 60,000,000 people of a progressive and sound nature "would find a way out of its difficulties," that Austria, Hungary, Rumania, the Balkan states, and other countries of Europe would meet their situation, because "when a situation of condition is bad enough to attract the attention of a great multitude of people, there people will adjust that condition."

Italy, he saw, making great strides under Mussolini, a country approaching an independence from other nations because of coordination under progressive leadership.

Tariffs and Coors.
The speaker then explained tariffs all over the world had hindered the natural flow of goods. "The opportunity is present in every nation, but goods must flow freely. I can see in the future an international league of nations in commerce which will do much to cure the ills of the world," he explained.

School Employees Contribute $1,722.11

November 4, 1932
Mrs. Frederick Snyder, Chairman,
Voluntary Aid Committee, 44 Clinton
Avenue, Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Madam:
It gives me great pleasure and satisfaction to inform you that all the employees of the board of education—the instructional staff, office force, medical department, attendance officers, mechanic, janitors, matron, engineer and cafeteria assistants—have made a voluntary contribution to the fund of your committee. This sum, $1,722.11, has been paid to your treasurer, Mr. D. N. Matthews.

We wish to express our wish for the success of your committee in its arduous undertaking, and to pledge our hearty cooperation.

Very truly yours,
B. C. VAN INGEN,
Superintendent of Schools

Convent Mothers to Present Child Show

The Mothers' Association of the Convent of St. Ursula will present the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the Broadway Theatre on December 9, at 4 o'clock. This announcement was made by the president, Mrs. T. J. Donovan, at the close of a special meeting held yesterday in the convent auditorium.

The Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre is an organization of trained players drawn from the Broadway stage and expertly directed by Mrs. Clare Tree Major, who has devoted her life to the adaptation and production of plays for children. It is an organization well known in New York city, where it plays at the McMillan Theatre at Columbia University and at the Brooklyn Museum of Art, and there are at present three touring companies playing throughout the east. The company which has been engaged to play in Kingston, prior to New York bookings, is now playing a three weeks' engagement to capacity houses in Cleveland.

The signing of this distinguished group of players has only been made possible through the self-sacrificing interest of the Mothers' Association, which is a group formed solely for the purpose of studying child needs in both educational and extra-curricular activities.

Tickets are now on sale and are reasonably priced. They may be obtained from any member of the association. Reservations may also be made by mail. Checks should be made payable and addressed to Mrs. A. H. Chambers, treasurer, Maple Lane.

Insull Arrested By Athens Police

Athens, Nov. 4 (AP)—Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities operator, was arrested today at the request of American authorities.

The American was taken into custody by the Athens police just after noon today in compliance with an order of the court of appeals, which held an application from Leland B. Morris, the American minister, for extradition.

Chicago authorities desire to return Insull to the United States to face indictments charging larceny and embezzlement in the collapse and subsequent receivership of the vast middle west utilities properties earlier this year.

Christos Ladas, Insull's Greek attorney, announced he would appear before authorities of the court of appeals as soon as possible and ask that his client be permitted to remain in his hotel under close supervision instead of being lodged in prison.

The attorney will plead the American's advanced age and point out that Greek law permits certain prisoners the privilege of accommodation in a hospital.

ONE SLAIN, THREE WOUNDED IN BERLIN RAILWAY STRIKE

Berlin, Nov. 4 (AP)—Fatal gun play flared in Berlin's wildest transportation strike today when police and strikers clashed at a suburban car barn. One man was slain and three were wounded.

The main system of bus, street car, subway, and elevated lines remained tied up, forcing thousands of Berlin residents to tramp miles to work for the second day in succession.

Since the strike began at 5 a. m. yesterday, 270 persons have been arrested on charges of resisting police and damaging public property, but most of the prisoners were soon released.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Treasury receipts for November 2 were $5,269,693.65; expenditures $10,213,839.67; balance $52,011,912.26; customs duties for two days of November were $1,976,066.37.

Lewis for his splendid address, and the intense interest of the members during the talk seconded the opinion of the president. The musical part of the program was in charge of Paul Zaccra, as were the lighter moments and fun making. Mr. Zaccra was assisted by Isabelle Butcher at the piano.

Donovan Answers Charges Of Smith

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Colonel William J. Donovan, Republican candidate for governor, had concluded another upstate campaign tour today after an address in Albany last night in which he said Alfred E. Smith "is a glutton for punishment; he elected one governor who ran out on him. Now he is trying to elect another who has already run out on him."

Donovan returned to New York today after a fast 12-hour trip through three counties.

His speech at Albany climaxed a busy day which began with his arrival at Hudson, in Columbia county, to address a Republican rally. From Hudson he swung through West Albany, Cohoes, Troy and other towns in Albany and Rensselaer counties, making several speeches.

At Albany and Troy he returned the fire of Smith, by whom he was assailed in a speech at Troy Wednesday night.

"The former governor of this state is a kind of touchy individual," Donovan said. "You can't blame him much for that. He had been in office a long time. A good many people looked to him as the white hope of the Democratic party. He began to think so himself. But look what his own party did to him. ..."

"Did they listen to the pleas of the former governor of this state that they run him again for President? They did not."

"All those men in his party who had fought him saw their chance to finish him. They chucked him out of the window and nominated instead the man he had made governor of this state."

"And that man is the same man to whom he referred at the Jackson Day dinner in Washington in April when he said:

"I will take of my coat and vest and fight to the end against any candidate who persists in demagogic appeal to the masses and the working people of the country to destroy themselves by setting class against class and rich against poor. ..."

Now our ex-governor has swallowed his words. He is now endorsing the same man whom a few months ago he was ready to 'fight'."

Referring to Smith's Troy speech, Donovan continued: "He says he wanted to find out where I stood on the wet and dry issue. He knows where I stand. He knows where I stood back in 1915 when I came back with two million other fellows from France. He knows what I said then in opposition to the 18th Amendment and he knows what I have said in this campaign. 'He knows I am for repeal.'"

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF ORANGE DISTRICT MEETING

There was an exceptionally interesting meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Orange District of the New York Diocese, held in Middletown, at Grace Episcopal Church, on Wednesday. There were about 200 delegates and clergy in attendance. The day's services were opened with a celebration of the Holy Communion, Bishop Gilbert being the speaker at the morning service. His topic was "The Church's Work," its vital importance both spiritually and socially at this time. Following the fine and friendly luncheon served by the ladies of Grace Church at noon, the gathering was privileged to hear the Rev. Percy Silver speak in the afternoon. He found far more than dollars and cents to talk about and showed very plainly the great need of honest and great sacrifices on the part of all to meet the budget as an earnest of the seriousness with which the churchmen (and women) of today believe in and show forth their Christianity.

One of the particularly loved speakers of the afternoon was Miss Ramsdell, vice-president of the Orange district. Other speakers were Captain Condon of the Church Army, who told of the survey taken recently in Sullivan county, revealing a distressing number of people without church affiliation. Miss Hutton of the Supply Department of New York city, told of the activities and needs of that department and finally and importantly Miss Kerley of Ellis Island spoke on conditions at the island these days of depression.

There was much food for every spirit in thought in what she had to tell, especially of the destitute conditions of so many of the immigrants, and begged for gifts of clothing, that could even be made to afford warmth and covering.

There were six delegates in attendance from St. John's Episcopal Church, this city, and Mrs. George DuBois was asked the people of Kingston who have clothing to be sent to the island, to communicate with her, Telephone 1102-M.

Thursday night was another cold night in Kingston and for the second time this season ice formed on small pools of water. Ice had also formed on Wednesday night. Early this morning thermometers registered 20 degrees above zero.

The cold spell of Wednesday and Thursday chased many auto drivers to take the precaution of having alcohol placed in the radiators of their cars.

This morning, early the ground was covered by a heavy white frost.

Ice Again Formed Thursday Night

Enthusiastic Crowd Applauded Speakers At Republican Rally

Attorney Andrew J. Cook and Attorney John M. Cashin spoke at servicemen's Thursday evening on Political Questions and Candidates.

A crowd that sent President George W. Moore in quest of extra seats, which when procured did not accommodate all, filled the Servicemen's hall on Pine Grove avenue Thursday night for the meeting of the Republican Club at which Andrew J. Cook, local attorney, and John M. Cashin, prominent lawyer of Kingston and New York, were the featured speakers.

Intense interest was shown by the gathering as the speakers spoke on the various candidates for election from President Hoover down to the men running for the several county offices. Applause hailed the orators several times as they brought out strong points in favor of the men picked by the Republican party to represent the people as government officials.

Attorney Cook introduced his talk by giving the definition of the word "demagogue" as it is written in the dictionary. "Demagogue" is one who plays an insincere game in public life for the sake of gaining political influence or office; a poser in politics; esp. one who panders to popular prejudice or seeks to inflame reasonless passions in the advancement of his personal interests."

Smith's Attitude.

Former Governor Alfred E. Smith, referred to Franklin D. Roosevelt as a demagogue prior to the latter's nomination for the presidency, said Mr. Cook, and still leaves true of his real attitude or estimation of the Democratic party's choice in his radio speeches. He referred to Smith's Newark speech in which the ex-governor failed to mention either Roosevelt or Garner until the last few seconds of his talk and then only identified them as the Democratic nominees.

Mr. Cook laid special stress on one part of the Smith speech in which he unfolded his real feeling toward his Democratic associates by saying "I wasn't pleased with what happened in Chicago and you weren't pleased." By this Mr. Smith meant the dissatisfaction shown by a great number when he lost the nomination for the presidency.

The speaker also brought out that Alfred E. Smith could hardly have any real sincere feeling of good will toward John Nance Garner of Texas, because it was he who led the delegation from that state against the popular New Yorker in 1928 when he received the nomination for the presidency.

Concerning the tariff, Mr. Cook pointed out the necessity for high duties on imports from other countries to protect American labor. He cited the example of the recent tariff put on brick to protect and enable industries of this vicinity to compete with manufacturers in Holland who were shipping bricks to this country at very low prices, causing local brickyards to suffer set-backs even before the depression hit its high pitch.

Mr. Cook also covered various other points, one of them the high cost of running New York state under the Roosevelt administration and the harmony of Colonel Herbert Lehman with the present governor's policy promising only a repetition of extravagant expenditures. He strongly urged the election of Colonel William J. Donovan, a man whom he characterized as one of the ablest to be found in the Republican party.

Predict Hoover Victory.

In closing the speaker drew attention to the fact that 21 newspapers of a prominent chain had abandoned the prediction that Franklin D. Roosevelt would be the next president and chose President Hoover to succeed himself by a big majority.

John M. Cashin, the second speaker, asked the audience to weigh the two principles of government as put forth in the campaign: Good, sound judgment and statesmanship as offered by the Republicans or vague promises as offered by the opposition party. He pointed out the dictations Mr. Roosevelt would have to listen to if he became president and showed the ill effects of this policy.

Mr. Cashin also explained the flat money proposition as proposed by the Democrats to issue paper money in excess of the gold and silver in the U. S. Treasury and the evils of this policy. It would affect every taxpayer in the country as well as banks. In regard to Candidate Roosevelt's plan to protect every dollar invested by people of the United States if elected, the speaker brought up the failure of the Bank of the United States in New York city, saying Governor Roosevelt permitted more than 440,000 depositors to lose their money. Of the total number of depositors who lost their money, 70 per cent were of the class that had to work hard to save it. Mr. Cashin asked how Mr. Roosevelt could handle the banking situation of the nation after failing to properly do so as governor.

Lehman's Policies.

Herbert Lehman was described by the speaker as one fully familiar with Governor Roosevelt's policies of running New York state and as one who would continue in his footsteps, running the state into greater debt. He spoke of the office of executive officer of Colonel William J. Donovan as saying he knew state expenditures could be reduced and urged that he be given a chance to prove it.

Both Mr. Cashin and Mr. Cook

Artists Visited Chrysanthemum Show

Even before Kingstonians were fully aware that the annual chrysanthemum show at the Burgevin Greenhouses on Pearl street was at its height, artists from Woodstock had visited the conservatories to secure for models in still life either single flowers or mass groups of the marvelous blooms to be seen there.

Kingston flower lovers, too, are making their annual pilgrimage to the conservatories to enjoy the entire green houses filled with exceedingly beautiful blooms both as to color and texture and also form and foliage. And Kingston flower lovers are cordially invited to visit these greenhouses and enjoy this exhibit which has come to make Kingston of outstanding interest to florists, flower growers, flower lovers and artists.

While a good many of the flowers in two or three of the smaller greenhouses have been cut, the other and larger houses are filled with plants in the height of their flowering glory or just coming to their perfection.

The craze for the more ponderous blooms seems to have subsided and fairly large blossoms for arm bouquets or to fill large vases are more in favor at the same time that they are really lovelier.

The same is true in the potted plants. The friendlier plants of reasonable size, lovely color and full perfect foliage are great favorites. And there are a couple of greenhouses devoted to the smaller, but not of "Artemesia" variety that are delightfully homey flowers.

The colors grow more perfect each year, as well as the texture of the blooms. The white ones are perfect in their graceful purity. Some shade from white to delicate pink in the one blossom and then they run the entire gamut of rose shades to rich, deep copper color of "The Majestic." This year it seems as though the yellow chrysanthemums are of a richer, more vivid golden color than ever before. From every viewpoint the Orange Queen is a work of art and the "Detroit News," a real "new" flower is of a gold bronze color that is marvellously rich in tone. These are just by way of mentioning a few of the newer varieties. Really describing flowers in words is about as satisfactory as describing music in words. They need to be seen.

While visitors go to the greenhouses to see that now noted chrysanthemum show, they are always invited to visit the rest of the flower growing plant, and see what will be waiting for them by the thousands this coming fall and winter, in the carnation and rose greenhouses.

Few enterprises in Kingston so delightfully and appealingly advertise our city to a wide area of neighboring states as do the Burgevin Conservatories, for they have the art of being able to ship flowers, (especially those cut in bud), which arrive in perfect condition to points as far distant as the northern section of New England and just as far west and south from Kingston.

This is the time to visit the chrysanthemum show at the Burgevin Greenhouses on Pearl street and an invitation to do so is extended to all.

spoke of the local candidates as men fully fitted for the offices to which they seek election. They named Senator Arthur H. Wicks, citing his excellent record as a legislator in the past; J. Edward Conway as one who would be able to greatly aid Senator Wicks if elected assemblyman from Ulster county; and John Saxe, candidate for sheriff, who is equipped in every respect to handle the office.

Hoover Address Adds New Material

Kansas City, Nov. 4 (AP)—President Hoover's address to Congress on Tuesday added new material to his report on the national situation.

Before the president's address his St. Louis visit, even Republican leaders had conceded that normally the Republican section to be doubtful. The outright repeal plank in the Democratic platform was blamed St. Louis is considered strongly anti prohibition.

To uncertainty over the effect of the Hoover speech on St. Louis and the farm belt was added confusion over hectic gubernatorial campaigns which threatened to tear party lines and cut down the number of straight ballots voted, not only in Missouri, but in Kansas and Texas also.

Hoover Promises 1,000,000 Men Jobs

Aboard Presidential Special Enroute West, Nov. 4 (AP)—President Hoover pushed westward through Illinois, on his way to California today, after telling a crowd that pushed and shoved him at Gary, Ind., in an effort to hear his words that a million men had returned to work since Congress adjourned and adding "If you want a million more to find work, return the Republican administration."

The chief executive left his train at Gary to address a crowd estimated by Republican leaders at 30,000. The microphone would not reach to the rear platform of his train. Police had difficulty clearing a path for him to walk through and the President as well as members of his party were pushed and shoved by the cheering crowd.

Mr. Hoover's speech at Gary was the first he had made on this, his sixth campaign trip, although he had greeted crowds along the route since early morning and stayed up late last night to appear before station crowds through West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Other Witnesses Testified Thursday At Dargan Inquest

Sought to Determine How John Dargan Met Death on Sanger Road September 8—Inquest Adjourned to November 29.

Several additional witnesses were sworn Thursday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Glen B. Murray in the John Dargan inquest which was held before Coroner W. N. Conner. Examination of witnesses was conducted by N. LeVan Haver. At the conclusion of the hearing Thursday an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock on November 29 when the driver of the bus, the first car to arrive at the scene apparently after Dargan's death, will be present.

The driver, Henry Henders of Albany, was not present Thursday in court but counsel for the Greyhound Bus Lines who was present in court stated that the driver would be produced at the next hearing.

Dargan was killed as he walked along the Kingston-Saugerties highway early on the morning of September 8. The body was found about a mile or more from the top of the Glenierie hill lying on the right side of the pavement. He evidently had been struck by a car as he walked toward Kingston after abandoning his car at the Clark Garage at Glenierie. His injuries according to Dr. Jacobson who performed the autopsy could have been caused by being struck from the rear by some heavy object. The most serious injuries were on his upper body indicating that whatever object struck him had been at least three or more feet from the ground. His neck was broken, his skull fractured and ribs were broken at the back of his body. His shoes indicated that he had been struck and turned around on the concrete pavement, circular marks on the shoes would indicate that he had been on his feet at the time he was struck and the apparent blow on the back indicated that he had been struck from behind.

The accident, as reported to the sheriff and state troopers by the driver of a Grayhound bus which came along, the driver has stated that his bus did not strike the man but that he was lying on the pavement as the bus came along.

Eckert Testifies.

Peter Eckert was the first witness called Thursday afternoon. He said he was returning from Cairo on the early morning of September 8. He had been to Cairo to train a horse and when he was near the top of the Glenierie hill he observed a man walking on the right of the road toward Kingston. This was perhaps a mile and a half from where the body was found. This was around 2 o'clock in the morning. The man was apparently not "real drunk" but he had been drinking and his feet were not acting as they should. He said as this man walked his feet crossed but he did not exactly stagger. Eckert said he did not recognize the man. Eckert came to Kingston and went to the S. & C. lunch room downtown Kingston, where he went back to Cairo and returned about noon. On his way back he saw troopers and the district attorney and others on the road near Glenierie, and stopped and went back and inquired what had happened and was told that John Dargan had been killed there. Eckert said that he then told the officers that he had seen a man a mile or more back on the road about 2 o'clock in the morning walking toward Kingston and that the man had evidently been drinking. He said the man was dressed in dark clothes. At the time he saw him the man was coming up the hill. This is all Eckert knew of the matter.

Mrs. Helen Cordes of West Saugerties who was one of a party of three women who had been in company of Mr. Dargan at the Comstock cottage at Glenierie the night he was killed was next called. She said she and Mrs. Comstock and Miss Ida Vandenberg had been at the Comstock cottage about 9 o'clock when Dargan came there in his car. He had been drinking at that time. Mrs. Cordes said she and Miss Vandenberg had driven to the Comstock cottage in her car. About 11 o'clock the three women and Dargan left his car and went to the Saugerties, a spaghetti place near Schoeninger, and after eating they had gone back to the Comstock cottage. When they left the Vanderbarian was under the influence of liquor to the extent that Mrs. Cordes offered to drive his car. He decided to drive and Mrs. Cordes accompanied him to the Comstock cottage while the other two women walked.

Unable to Drive.

When they arrived at the Comstock cottage Dargan got out of the car and Mrs. Cordes asked him to ride home with her and Miss Vandenberg. She said he was not able to drive his car. He got in her car but she was unable to shift the gear and he got out and said he would stay at the Comstock place. He appeared much more intoxicated than Dargan walked about the place there and went across the road to the opposite side from the Comstock place.

Mrs. Cordes and Miss Vandenberg started to drive off after having some difficulty in starting the car but Mrs. Cordes said she changed her mind and backed up and asked Miss Vandenberg to go home to West Saugerties with her and Mrs. Vandenberg got out of the car and the three women left. Dargan said for them to go, but they would stay there. As they drove off, he saw him last in the car which was parked near the Comstock place. It was about 2 o'clock when the

Dickinson Death Recalls The Past

The death of Anna E. Dickinson at Cochen, as she was preparing to celebrate her 90th birthday last Friday, recalls to an old Freeman man the days when Miss Dickinson, Susan B. Anthony, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, Henry Ward Beecher, Frederick Douglass, delivered anti-slavery addresses at the court house in this city.

He well recalls Miss Dickinson's first appearance in Kingston. She came at the request of the Lincoln Literary Association, of which Augustus H. Bruyn, an opulent bachelor strongly opposed to woman suffrage, was the president. Miss Dickinson's announced subject was "Women, Idiots and Indians not Taxed," they being the only residents of the United States who could not vote.

There was a good deal of amused speculation as to the manner in which Mr. Bruyn would introduce Miss Dickinson. Her address was advertised for the Monday evening of the opening of the December term of the supreme court.

After Judge Hogeboom had charged the grand jury, impaneled the petit jury, and called the calendar, Edward Lowe, the court crier, announced that he had been requested by Mr. Bruyn, who was a member of the bar although he did not practice, to ask the bar to remain for a few minutes. There was a large attendance of lawyers, all of them stayed Jacob Hardenburgh and Theodore M. Westbrook were the leaders of the bar. Both were graduates of Rutgers College, both were classical and biblical scholars, Hardenburgh having been the classical instructor at the Potsdam Classical Institute prior to studying law. He had as well been a delegate-at-large to the Constitutional Convention of 1869, and there strongly had opposed woman suffrage. Westbrook warmly favored granting suffrage to women. Hardenburgh was a fine judge of rare vivacity, and enjoyed a well deserved reputation for gallantry. Westbrook was learned and witty; Hardenburgh was profound and avoided humor. Both were in the habit of using biblical illustrations, and quotations in their arguments to a court and jury. As a rule they were opposed in almost every important law suit at that time tried in this country, although they were strong personal friends. Both had been war Democrats during the War of the Rebellion. Hardenburgh was the grandson of a dominion of the Reformed Dutch Church. Westbrook's father was a distinguished clergyman of that denomination.

Lowe stated that Mr. Bruyn had requested him to say to the lawyers that he, Bruyn, was not well enough to preside at the evening meeting, and introduce Miss Dickinson, and hoped the bar would select one of their number to discharge that delicate and important task. Westbrook who subsequently became a distinguished justice of the Supreme Court, instantly was on his feet and showed that the bar select Mr. Hardenburgh to introduce Miss Dickinson. This naturally aroused a great deal of laughter. Judge Clearwater at that time was the youngest member of the bar. He had studied with Hardenburgh, and the latter's partner, Augustus Schoonmaker, who subsequently became Attorney General and Interstate Commerce Commissioner. Hardenburgh said he greatly appreciated the honor, but he had an imperative engagement which would prevent his accepting it, he suggested that Clearwater be selected. At that time it was pretty well understood that Hardenburgh intended to remove to Albany, take office there to contend with General John K. Porter and Samuel Hand, who were monopolizing the practice in the Court of Appeals. Westbrook said that in view of Hardenburgh's engagement, it would be well that the mantle of Elijah should be cast upon the shoulders of Eliza, therefore he withdrew Hardenburgh's name and suggested that of Clearwater, who unanimously was chosen. Clearwater performed the job in good style. He secured a suite of rooms at Bruyn's hotel on Crown street, then the leading hotel between New York and Albany, ornamented them with a large bouquet of roses, went over to Rhinecliff with Henry Kelder's carriage lined with rose colored satin, brought Miss Dickinson to the hotel, and at eight o'clock escorted her to the court room where she was received most enthusiastically. She was dressed in delicate gown with the same flowing sleeves displayed in her portrait in the New York Tribune of last Tuesday. She had a habit of closing her address with a somewhat terse sentence not necessary here to repeat which she had chosen for the purpose of attracting young men to her lectures; on this occasion all the younger members of the Kingston and Rondout Fire Departments occupied front seats in the court room. She was tremendously applauded. Clearwater in introducing her spoke of Mr. Bruyn's illness, of Mr. Hardenburgh's engagement, of his own inexperience, all of which he said would be more than compensated for by the brilliancy of the guest of the evening. At the close of her address she was escorted to her hotel by the youthful and gallant members of Wiltwyck Hose Company. In a lecture she subsequently delivered at Cooper Union in New York she said there were no more hospitable or genial people than those of ancient Dutch Kingston which well maintained the social traditions it enjoyed long before the war of the Revolution. Kingston always held a warm place in Miss Dickinson's heart, she frequently spoke enthusiastically of her reception here.

REGIONAL MEETINGS FOR FARM BUREAU COMMITTEEMEN

These regional suppers, followed by business meetings, are being planned for all Farm Bureau committeemen and their wives on November 15, 16 and 17.

The first will be held Tuesday night, November 15, at the Trumbull farm in Kyserike. This will be for the Rondout Valley region including the Accord, Ellenville, Kerhonkson, Spring Glen and Stone Ridge communities. The second takes place Wednesday night, November 16, in the Clintondale Grange Hall. The southern Ulster region includes the communities of Clintondale, Gardiner, Highland, Marlborough, Milton, Madam, Plattekill, New Paltz and Wallkill.

The third will be held in the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, Thursday night, November 17. Supper will be provided by the ladies of the Grange. The committeemen from the Kingston region, including the communities of Ashbury, Flatbush-Lake Katrine, Hurley, Teagers and Ulster Park are expected to attend.

C. C. DuMont, president of the Farm Bureau, will preside at all three meetings. E. S. Foster, secretary of the State Federation, will speak at the Kyserike and Clintondale meetings. Other speakers will include W. J. Clark, and Albert Kurtz of the Farm Bureau and Bernard Joy, County 4-H Club leader.

A small piece of money

A small piece of money does a mighty important piece of work when you use it to buy the right medicine whenever you're congested. That means Feen-a-mint. It's right for everyone, men, women, and children. The very fact that you chew it makes it work right—dissolves it evenly, naturally, the same as food. No pills, no nasty dose to swallow. Really delicious and it's safe, non-habit-forming and economical. At all drugstores.

What is Cross Blending?

an Art

might explain it this way...

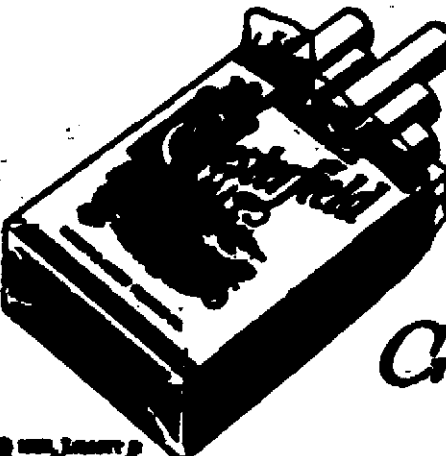

"Let's say you're painting clouds. You've got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven't the clouds until you blend certain colors into the special tone you want.

"This is very much what happens in making a good cigarette. And I gather that what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Domestic and Turkish tobaccos—many varieties of each—are the primary colors. They blend and cross-blend these tobaccos until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the Chesterfield flavor.

"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and enrich them, so each Chesterfield tobacco partakes of the fine qualities of every other.

"You 'weld' different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"

Republican Mass Meeting Successful

The Republican mass meeting at St. Colman's Hall, East Kingston, Thursday night, was largely attended by residents of the community interested in hearing what the speakers had to say in contradiction of recent statements made by opponents concerning the Ulster county jail.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chief speaker of the occasion, answered the charges with a letter from the state department of correction in which that board praised and commended the condition of the jail and the manner in which it is being run by the officers in charge.

The senator also contradicted rumors to the effect that the county spends $6 cents a day to feed prisoners, saying that the state law permits only 45 cents to be spent for food per man. This is five cents more than allowed to feed U. S. soldiers.

Concerning Franklin D. Roosevelt, Senator Wicks asked to be shown where Alfred E. Smith even once said he would make a good president. He added, "I have respect and admiration for Al Smith of his courage and straightforwardness."

Other speakers were J. Edward Conway, candidate for member of assembly and John Saxe, candidate for sheriff.

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 4, 1932.

MEDALIE IS NEEDED.

George Z. Medalie, the Republican nominee for United States Senator from New York State, demonstrated to an Ulster county audience in Kingston on Saturday night that he has all the qualities of intellect, heart and character that the senator from the Empire State ought to have. He made a clear analysis of the existing national problems and what caused them. Then he gave an illuminating comparison between President Hoover's effective plans for reconstruction that are now in effect, and the Roosevelt-Garner promises of pork barrel legislation for which the already burdened taxpayers would have to foot the bill.

During the past five or six years Ulster county radio owners have heard many important talks by eminent United States Senators that have been received over their radios. In knowledge, logic and force, Mr. Medalie's Kingston address will take its place in the first rank for clearness, foresight and statesmanship.

Mr. Medalie has served efficiently as United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York. His career has been marked by brilliant achievements. He has conducted many important investigations and has prosecuted many celebrated cases successfully. His manner of address is pleasing. In addition to his command of facts and the interesting way in which he presents them, he shows an orderly mind, unerring power of reasoning, fairness and poise.

CONWAY IS QUALIFIED.

There is an old saying that a man's education begins before he is born. If that be true, the education of J. Edward Conway as a legislator began with his father, because the latter was one of the most active men in securing improvement in labor conditions through state legislation. Every year the state law-makers are faced with a mass of proposed legislation affecting labor. Some of the measures proposed are good, some are ill-advised, some are bad. Labor watches the bills closely and the labor leaders condemn many measures which are intended to benefit but which are so loosely drawn that they would be far from beneficial if they became laws.

Mr. Conway has inherited his father's wholesome and stimulating activity regarding labor and labor problems. He displays wise discernment in public affairs. His appearances before legislative committees upon behalf of local civic and business organizations have shown a deep interest in and a sincere desire to help his fellow citizens because all such services have been rendered gratuitously.

As assistant district attorney of Ulster county, Mr. Conway displays legal ability of a high order. His work is marked by the same commendable fairness which characterizes and for many years has been a feature of the district attorneys of Ulster county and their assistants. Ability, to take decisive action of the right kind, backed by integrity, high ideals, an excellent education and splendid training give to Mr. Conway an advantage that few candidates enjoy.

WHAT IS "INDECENT?"

A group of women claiming to represent certain women's clubs in the city asked at a meeting of the Common Council on Tuesday evening that a resolution be passed by that body to empower police to arrest women appearing on the streets of the city "in indecent and inadequate clothing". It is true that during the summer months resorters walk the streets of Kingston, clad in scanty and enjoy the hospitality of the city, and that many of them are clad in shorts, low backed blouses, scarfs and similar attire.

However, it is absurd to rule that police or any other group of city guardians shall be able to arrest any person for indecent exposure without deciding just what is meant and what type of clothes a person must wear. It leaves too much to the discretion, or lack of it, of the guardians of our morals, and not enough to actual fact. It is doubtful if a person arrested who demanded a jury trial could be convicted under such an ordinance.

There must be already an equally vague law on the statute books, to which another nebulous prohibition would add no force. The resorters, at least many of them, come to our mountains to enjoy the fresh air and the health of the sun's rays, and if the complaint of any individual to a policeman will cause the arrest of the city may count on losing much of its summer trade. Most of the female visitors to the city have no intention of flaunting their charms, but are enjoying their vacations and hoping to secure a sun tan. Anyway, others, envious or otherwise, need not look at them.

Sunday afternoon the water supply of a large part of Kingston was shut off because of a break in one of the mains. Repairs were promptly and efficiently made and for this great credit is due to the officials and employees of the Board of Water Commissioners. In this emergency two former employees, Mr. Harrison and Mr. Darrow, were called upon for aid and it was due to their knowledge and efficiency that the work was so well and quickly done. In this connection it is well to remember that when Mayor Carey got control of the Water Board Mr. Harrison and Mr. Darrow were deposed in order to make places for friends of the mayor, and for no other reason. It seems that fitness and efficiency were not considered until an emergency arose. Then the skill of these experienced men was quickly recognized and their aid asked for—an admission that the forwarding of political and personal friends is not in the interest of the city.

FOODS MAY CAUSE SYMPTOMS

So important to health is the proper working of the stomach and intestines that in every city now are what are called gastro (stomach) intestinal specialists.

In investigating the cause of stomach disturbance these specialists make various tests on the stomach such as giving a meal of a pint of tea and a piece of toast on an empty stomach and then withdrawing the meal from the stomach by means of a tube one hour later. They are thus enabled to learn just what has happened insofar as the digestion of the meal is concerned, the presence of bile or blood, and other findings.

Another method is to first remove any juice in the stomach by means of a tube and syringe and then give a test meal made by boiling two tablespoonfuls of fine breakfast oatmeal in a quart of water until it boils down to a pint. This entire pint is given to the patient to drink and then about one-half ounce is withdrawn every fifteen minutes for two and a half hours or until nothing further can be withdrawn. The specimens are then examined carefully for blood, bile and mucus.

Then there is the X-ray examination of the stomach and intestine by taking a meal which it opaque or shows black under the X-rays. This meal consists of three ounces of barium sulphate in half a pint of milk. By this means the shape of the stomach and its filling properties can be investigated.

If after examination by these methods nothing is found to explain the trouble, what may be causing the disturbance, the distress, or the indigestion as it is called?

Just as by fever and asthma can be caused by certain foods, so can cancer, scurvy, coated tongue, bad breath, belching, sour stomach, nausea, lack of appetite, "biliousness", pain in upper right hand side of abdomen, constipation, abdominal pain, cramps, diarrhoea, vomiting, pain in region of appendix, all be due to a certain food or foods.

In a series of over 300 cases Dr. Anthony Bessler, New York, found that excellent foods such as wheat, eggs, and milk, were to blame for one or more of the above symptoms. Spinach was the most common cause of any of the vegetables, meat and eggs less so, and nuts least of all. The point then is that if the food eaten and X-rays show no cause for the symptoms, then the fact that some foods disturb some people should be remembered.

CHAPTER 17

MARRIED AGAIN

CLIVE glanced at the closed door of their compartment, then at Santa's hat-box and suitcase. He looked at the door, then at Santa's hat-box and suitcase. He looked at the door, then at Santa's hat-box and suitcase.

"It's true, Clive," she nodded. "I really belong to you." "I'm kind of stunned," he smiled. "It takes a bit of getting used to." "For me, too," she was wondering whether she might powder her nose. "It won't tomorrow."

He seized her slender wrist. "Of course it won't. Everything past will be forgotten." "As though this were the first time I had been married," she read his thoughts.

He shifted to her side and slipped an arm about her. She waited patiently as a doll.

"I'm the only husband you ever had," he burst out. "Say so." She took his face between her hands.

"I can never thank God enough for having given you to me." That satisfied him for the moment. He twisted the wedding-ring on her finger—the one he had bestowed on her.

His mind was in a ferment. So many thoughts—so few of them to utter. Scarcely more than a week ago he had been caught in a sleeping compartment with her, he could have been dragged into her divorce.

The conductor tapped and entered to collect tickets. Clive betrayed the customary nervousness of the poorly wedded. Santa watching, found his confusion adorable. Evidently he feared that the legality of their relationship might be doubted. Santa experienced the same pang as her first honeymoon.

When they were alone again, Clive re-entitled himself beside her. "You're awfully quiet," she challenged. "I feel such an amateur," he laughed.

"I shall love living with you in New York," she smiled. "I'll see that you do." "I'll see that you do," she smiled. "I'll see that you do," she smiled.

Things had moved too fast. Clive had judged rightly that after her divorce, Santa wouldn't be able to conduct her own affairs. When he'd surprised her that morning two weeks ago, she had cultivated the complex that all her friends were ashamed of her—that nobody would ever want to be seen with her.

The best cure had seemed to be to restore her without waste of time to a recognized place in society. He had urged immediate remarriage. Santa had permitted herself to be persuaded on the condition that they involved nobody in their recklessness. Hence there had been no guests, no wedding presents. Not even her parents had been notified. Their plans for the future had yet to be formulated.

The first minister they had approached, on learning that Santa was a divorcee, had refused to officiate. The second had invited them into his parlor—this was a few hours ago—and united them as perfectly as if he'd been issuing a dog-license.

Now that his goal had been attained and they were man and wife, had come the reaction. Her remark as they had stepped aboard the train had started it. "Married again, I adore it!" In their marriage was everything to be again for her? He had approached this day with so much of reverence, which nothing external had reflected. At the back of his mind was the account he had read of the social importance which had been attached to her first nuptials.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—

SOUTH HIGH, Minneapolis, WON THE CITY FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP AGAINST 4 OTHER SCHOOLS WITHOUT SCORING A TOUCHDOWN!

First prize Minneapolis Tribune "Strange As It Seems" contest.

A LING FISH WAS FOUND on Molly Island, Yellowstone Nat'l Park, 150 MILES FROM ITS NEAREST HABITAT.

Although they never crossed an opponent's goal line for a touchdown, the South High football team of Minneapolis, won the city championship in 1911 with three victories and one tie to their credit. The undefeated team played three of the four games and won the other by a forfeit. They scored 19 points during the championship series, and were not scored against at all. Against East High the South eleven won its first game 3 to 0; against West it claimed a victory of 1 to 0 by a forfeit; in the third game of the season, against West High School, the South team scored 6 with two drop kicks, to win 6 to 0; and in the last game of the season South High and Central High played a tie to their credit. The undefeated team played three of the four games and won the other by a forfeit. They scored 19 points during the championship series, and were not scored against at all. SOUTH RONDOUT

South Rondout, Nov. 3.—Dr. George Ross will make the second diphtheria inoculation at the Connelly school on Monday at 9 a. m.

Mrs. George Higler spent Wednesday afternoon in Kingston, visiting her mother, Mrs. Schaffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar LaFever and family expect to leave on Thursday to take up their residence in Staten Island. They will be missed from this village.

The Ladies' Aid Society met on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Becker, and the annual turkey supper and fair was reported a success, both financially and socially.

Prayer service will be held in the M. E. Church on Friday evening, on the pastor's return from Drew Seminary in Madison, N. Y.

MODERN QUIETUS TOLL IN SPANISH AIR CORPS

Madrid (P)—The handful of air corps officers who were loyal to the republic through the recent monarchist uprising, are doing double duty.

After many of their comrades had been killed, they asked Manuel Azaña, minister of war, to let them carry on the corps work and not to give them any promotions.

The officers explained their Quixotic conduct was based on determination to profit from acts aimed at the republic.

Army Of 50,000 To Aid Freeman

Give Readers Prompt Vote Returns

George Washington learned he had been elected president of the United States two months after the ballots were cast. The 1932 candidates will know the news in a matter of hours after the polls close—because THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, of which The Freeman is a member, will compile the results with an army of workers.

Not less than 50,000 persons will participate in informing the voters promptly on what was decided November 8. Most of these will start their work after nightfall and continue until the job is finished.

Precinct reporters throughout the country will speed the results to county or district centers. Progressive totals next will be forwarded by telephone or telegraph to zone headquarters, from there to a central state bureau.

The results from each state, carefully checked and verified, last are simultaneously telegraphed over leased wires to THE ASSOCIATED PRESS bureau at Washington, the national tabulating center. At frequent intervals, the electoral and popular vote totals will be provided, to show the trend of the steadily mounting tabulations and the final results.

The election organization in each state also will tabulate the votes for senators, representatives and state officers. The results of congressional elections, because of their importance in the makeup of the new legislative department, are tabulated nationally with the same speed as the presidential results.

Usual precautions are exercised throughout the election organization to safeguard against errors creeping into THE ASSOCIATED PRESS reports. Figures and totals are subjected to careful checks and tests by staff men experienced in handling election results.

Any possible discrepancy, such as an unusual reversal of party adhesion

The complete story of the November 8 election results will reach Freeman readers promptly and accurately through the nationwide staff of The Associated Press. Photo shows a group of Associated Press election and markets tabulators in the New York headquarters.

COAL DISCOUNT ANNOUNCEMENT

WE STAND READY TO HELP YOU KEEP YOUR HOME WARM THIS WINTER AND SAVE YOU 80 CENTS A TON ON YOUR FULL REQUIREMENTS PURCHASED FROM THIS TIME UNTIL NEXT APRIL.

Instead of filling your bins—which would necessitate the payment of a considerable amount within 30 days in order to earn the 80 cents a ton discount—we will spread deliveries over the winter to permit you to take your coal in such amounts as you can conveniently pay for before the discount period expires.

In order to make this plan possible we are not able to grant credit beyond 30 days in any case; therefore, at the time you place your order tell your coal dealer to deliver such an amount of it as you can conveniently pay for in 30 days.

YOU'RE WISE TO HEAT WITH GAS

"YES sir, it's all hooked up and ready to go—in less than a day's time as I promised. From now on you can forget about heating, and never open the furnace door. This cellar is going to be mighty nice too. We'll take the coal off your hands, without any loss to you. There is no fuel to store. The big gas holders are your fuel bin."

"You already know, of course, how much it's going to cost. The figures we gave you are guaranteed for the first heating season. You cannot pay more; you will probably pay less. And if, for any reason, you decide next spring that you don't want it, out it comes, and the furnace is put back in its original condition without cost to you. Nothing fairer than that, is there?"

You can enjoy the same liberal trial installation for heating with gas in your own home. Even though you rent your home, there is a provision to protect you against loss. Consult your own plumber, or ask our representative to make a survey and submit a written proposal.

PARROT INVESTED KISS SAYS 200 INVESTIGATOR

Sydney, Australia (P)—Kisses started with the birds, says an official of the Taronga Park Zoo who has been studying the habits of parrots.

He points especially to the giant macaw, the males of which feed their mates from their beaks until the eggs are hatched.

"These are not the sort of kisses we see on the screen," said the investigator, "but it was from some such actions that humans of the early days got their ideas of the kiss."

Democratic Candidate for Justice of Supreme Court Third Judicial District

GILBERT V. SCHENCK

Gilbert V. Schenck, Surrogate of Albany County, has been nominated by the Democratic Party for Justice of the Supreme Court, in the Third Judicial District. Judge Schenck meets every test in education, in social and civic background, and in technical training for this high office.

The son of the late Martin Schenck, former State Engineer and Surveyor, he was born in Sprakers, Montgomery County, in 1883. He was educated in the Albany Academy, Union College and the Albany Law School, being graduated from the Law School in 1906.

Wide Legal Experience

For twenty years he was in active practice of the law, associated with such men as General Amasa J. Parker, Edwin L. Fowler, and former Supreme Court Justice Randall J. Le Boeuf. In 1922 he was appointed Corporation Counsel of the City of Albany by the late Mayor William S. Hackett, and served in that capacity under Mayor Hackett and Mayor John Boyd Thacher during the important years of the rebuilding of that city. Five years ago he became Surrogate of the County of Albany, and in that position has won the approval of the legal fraternity and of the men and women whose affairs he has directed and determined.

A Creditable War Record

Judge Schenck served in France during the World War as Major of a machine gun battalion, and participated in the great Meuse-Argonne offensive, being slightly wounded while in action.

Active in Civic and Fraternal Affairs

Judge Schenck has entered fully into the business, social and fraternal life of the community. He is a member of the New York State Bar Association, the Albany County Bar Association, the leading social clubs of Albany, the Albany Lodge of Elks, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Officers Reserve Corps, la Société des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux and Sons of the Revolution. He is president and trustee of the Young Men's Association, which operates the public libraries of Albany, and is a member of the Albany Board of Education and a director of the Albany Chamber of Commerce. In Masonic affairs he is deeply interested, being a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of the Shrine, a member of Masters Lodge No. 5, and associated with all the Scottish Rite bodies.

In 1909 Major Schenck married Miss Maude Ward, daughter of the late Walter Ward and niece of John G. Ward, former Collector of Internal Revenue in the Albany district, a family closely associated with the farming and business life of the southern end of Albany County.

Able Qualified for This High Office

As a candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, Major Schenck brings to the people an extensive experience in the private practice of law, six years' service as Corporation Counsel of the City of Albany, five years' experience in the important judicial office of Surrogate of Albany County, a wide and varied social and business relationship in the community, and a personal probity and integrity that make him an ideal choice.

Vote for JUDGE SCHENCK on Row A

The Third Judicial District embraces the Counties of Albany, Rensselaer, Columbia, Ulster, Greene, Sullivan and Schoharie

My Dog and I
Old pal, the years are slipping by.
Our fading shadows eastward fall.
It won't be long till you and I
Will hear and heed our Masters' call.
I don't know where we'll go from here.
Or what we'll be or what we'll do.
And I don't care—If only fate
Will grant me just one friend like you.

Asked what was the best thing to do for mosquito bites, a doctor replied: "Well, personally, I scratch 'em."

Friend—Did you ever attend a school for stuttering?
Stutterer—N-n-no I j-j-j-just p-p-p-picked it up.

Many men are like boys. They'll work much harder to amuse themselves than they will to make money. You know 'em, don't you.

Visitor—What nice buttons you are sewing on your little boy's suit. My husband once had some like that on his suit.
Minister's Wife—Yes, I get all my buttons out of the collection plate.

Stolen kisses may be sweetest, but a little enthusiastic cooperation doesn't hurt anything.

Medlin—I hear that when Gerald Snyder was in the hospital he had to have two nurses night and day.
Herlin—Yes, his wife wouldn't trust him alone with just one.

When you follow the path of least resistance you must be content to arrive long after the crowd.

Modern Love Song
Believe me, if all those adhering young charms
Which I view with admiring dismay,
Are going to rub off on the shoulders and arms
Of this suit which was just cleaned today.

Thou wilt be adored with my usual zeal,
My sweetheart, my loved one, my own.
But I'll sternly repress the emotions I feel—
I'll love you, but leave you alone.

Johnson—Women don't interest me. I prefer the company of my fellow men.
Sellers—I'm broke too, brother.

Faith may be able to move mountains but it doesn't have much effect in removing dandelions from the lawn.

Minister to Convict No. 1897—Remember, my good man, stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage.
No. 1897—Well, if they don't, I've been crazy for sitting here this long.

At April 1, 1932 morning newspapers had 14,391,417 net paid circulation; 1,543 evening newspapers had paid circulation of 25,474,674. These figures are within one per cent of the net paid as of Summer, 1929.—Editor and Publisher, New York.

Sonny—Daddy, the dog has littered up the living room again.
Daddy—Break anything?
Sonny—Oh, no, but she has six puppies.

You shouldn't expect to fly all night with the bats and then sail around all day with the meadowlarks.
Wife—I've invited one of my old sweethearts to dinner. Do you mind?
Husband—Mind? Heavens, no! I always love to associate with lucky people.

Among the few things that still remain regrettably high is the cost of bad government.

Indian Arrowheads
The bureau of American ethnology says that there is no way of associating arrowheads with tribes. The points vary in size according to the purpose for which they are intended. Arrows used for birds and other small game were tipped with small points and those for larger game called for larger points. Each tribe had a great variety of forms.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Hughes have moved from their summer home in upper Broadstreet Hollow to their winter home near the state road. Mrs. Margaret Tricker and Mr. Delaney of New York city and Miss Margaret Delaney were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garrity on Thursday.

The Home Mission Class of the M. E. Church entertained their families and a few friends at an old-fashioned Halloween party in the church hall on Monday evening. The color scheme was orange and black, and the decorations consisted of real pumpkin jack o' lanterns, cornstalks and many grotesque lanterns and forms which added to a very spooky environment. During the evening games were played, refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake, coffee, doughnuts and pumpkin pie, were enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward West and the Misses Anna and Esther Rieley were in Kingston on Saturday. While there they called on Mrs. Ella D. Coons in the Orthmann Sanatorium.

Miss Dorothy Kelsey of Tompkinsville, States Island, and Miss Peg Delaney called on Lucia Garrity at "the Margaret Hotel" on Saturday afternoon.

Miss Angie Whitney of Kingston has returned home from a visit at the home of Miss Esther Rieley.

THE DANGEROUS AGE

EVERY day the mail brings me a flood of letters from women. They prove that Chances of Life need not always be dreaded. They tell how the headache, back-ache, can be overcome or avoided.

Please read the end of a typical letter. It's from Mrs. MacCrae: "I wish these headaches. It made me strong and healthy. I will always praise your medicine and tell other women about it."

Put more SUNSHINE days on your calendar

How many days in the month do you feel your best? You can add to these sunshine days by simply changing nature's laws.

The first of these laws is regular elimination. Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's All-Bran furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help aid regularity. All-Bran also contains twice the iron of an equal weight of beef liver.

The "bulk" in All-Bran is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much more pleasant than pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. Directions on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

OUR DAILY PATTERN

A Comfortable Coat for a Little Miss
7642. Camels hair, tweed, velours and the new rough woollens are suggested for this model. Velvet and fur fabrics also may be used. The coat is semi-fitted, and double breasted with revers that join a scarf collar. Large pockets trim the fronts.

Designed in five sizes: 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10 years. Size 6 will require 1 3/4 yard of 54-inch material. To line the coat will require 1 1/2 yard of 35 inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

ANOTHER GUIMPE FROCK

New York—Crinkly crepes and pebbly surfaced materials have a vinty air about them. They seem particularly appropriate to the season, especially in the warm colors in which they are usually found.

Considering that smart women were in the habit of avoiding red for many years, it seems as though they are now making up for lost time. There is red, red, and still more red—everything from bright lipstick and lacquer tones to the deepest garnet and burgundy. The most interesting of all the reds, because of being the newest, is the red-purple range—although purples are quite as likely to be tinged with blue as with red.

Purple is "in" again. Those who remember will tell you that purple and grape usually reappear at the same time. There has been, and is, much talk of gray. Most of it is justified. The smoky grays seem to be the ones accepted for immediate wear. Gray is considered very good with brown, this being especially true in woollens. Not all shades of brown are good with gray, but there are certain tones of both colors that are entirely harmonious.

Purples and reds, and purples and blues, are used together. Green and brown, and green and yellow, also green and coral are favorites. So is brown with certain coral or red tones. Black-and-white survives in spite of all this rivalry, but is not as important as it was at the first of the season. The black foundation worn with a colored tunic is one of those economy gestures that fashion makes this winter.

Tanics, and pepums too, are much in evidence and might seem to indicate that long lines are considered better when broken. The introduction of the tunic theme at this time is a life-saver for the woman who has a perfectly good, but too short dress hanging in her closet.

It's New If It's Knee-Length

The shorter evening wrap has been given considerable attention by the shops. It is the knee-length silhouette which is preferred, as for instance, a furless white broadcloth wrap, fitted through the waist. Window displays gives prominence to fur-bordered wraps of velvet as well as to the same silhouette with fur introduced on short capelet sleeves.

The Velvet Blouse for Tea and Bridge

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

In pastel or vivid shades, the little sheer velvet blouse at right presents a type which is suitably formal neckline and sleeves, simply styled, suggests a practical style for winter.

Another model, suggesting more dressy use, is developed in satin, also showing color in pastel or vivid shades. The double breasted and high buttoned neckline recommends it for youthful wear.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Interest continues to be manifested in dresses that serve a double purpose, with jackets and capes that are detachable, and that may just as well be buttoned at the back as the front, performing the transformation.

Mention must be made of the gold shades, which are in high favor in rough crepes and also in lightweight woollens. Gold lends itself well to black or brown trimmings and accessories, and is a lively color without being considered too bright.

Little sleeves, on cap and puff lines, appear in night gowns. Either the fabric of the gown, or the lace which trims it, makes the sleeves, which often give a very "babyish" appearance, especially when they are used in conjunction with the youthful round neckline.

Black is the best of the pinky shades, a tone more rose-hued than the regular taupe. Blue is going very well. "Lots of white" lingerie is the comment everywhere. Laces continue medium dark, neither one extreme nor another.

White and black-and-white costume jewelry continues strong, but in bracelets especially, there is considerable color, such as bright red or vivid green, used alone and in plain massive surfaces.

In evening fashion stylists cite black, also the jewel tones, the blues especially—Paton's night blue, Parry blue and Schlappe's hyacinth blue. Young and old alike are sponsors of blue for evening.

GRANGE MASTERS' AND LECTURERS' ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Putnam County Grange Masters and Lecturers will take place Wednesday night, November 9, in the Putnam County Grange Hall. All Grange Masters and Lecturers, both past and present, as well as members of the various Grange Service and Hospitality Committees are urged to attend, by I. C. Burns of New Paltz, president of the association. All other interested persons are also invited. Harold Sney, master of the Putnam Grange; J. Wells Weaver, county Grange deputy, and Mrs. Charles O. Jenkins, lecturer of the Putnam Grange, will be present to assist with the program. As at all Grange functions, the husband or wife of any of those attending, is also cordially invited. Those attending will bring some or

SIDE OF FEED AND REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED AFTER THE BUSINESS MEETING.

The Farm Bureau office reports that 150 memberships for 1933 have already been received by mail in connection with the renewal drive which started November 1. This compares very favorably with the number received by the same date last year. The officers of the Farm Bureau submit the cooperation of every Farm Bureau member to aid in the membership renewal at once. This will save the commission, and the organization, considerable time and money. Every membership mailed in means one less visit by some committee.

TARABCO.

Tarabco, Nov. 3.—Local members of the Rondout Valley Rod and Gun Club of Patahanak are reminded of the annual game supper which will be held in the Accord M. E. Church Hall on November 18. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Louis Rothberg is now employed at the Oscar Tuckirly farms at New Paltz.

Neighbors and friends regret that Homer Wykeop is ill.

Dancing parties continue popular at the Rothberg Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wykeop, Jr., were pleasantly entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening last at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ann Wykeop.

Phony leaves to make these days in this vicinity with the trees practically stripped of their foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. David Burgher were guests on Tuesday evening of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ann Wykeop.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Decker and son, Clifford, and Junior, were guests last Sunday of the latter's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Patten, in Kingston.

Neighbors regret to hear that Norman Quirk of Lehigh had the misfortune to lose his horse in a recent fire.

Mrs. Herman Knickke is spending some time with her brother and sister, Mary and Myron Turvilliger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ann Wykeop called on their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Wykeop, in Northampton, Sunday afternoon.

Louis Rothberg left for New Paltz last week, where he is employed.

George Turvilliger is spending some time with his sister, Mrs. Ernest Bluckly, and family in Pine Hill.

Homer Wykeop, Sr., who has been ill, is better at this writing.

Engene Davier, Kenneth Wykeop and Jack Rodberg were callers in Northampton on Saturday.

The dance at Morris Rodberg's on Saturday night was well attended.

The Rondout Valley Rod and Gun Club will hold its annual game supper and dance in Accord November 18.

Jack Rothberg has been assisting Ann Wykeop in picking apples at Gardiner.

Hasel Wykeop was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorense Decker, on Sunday last week.

Lester Wykeop spent the week-end with his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bluckly, in Pine Hill.

George Turvilliger of this place went to Pine Hill on Tuesday for an extended visit.

Several beautiful pheasants have been shot this week in this vicinity.

Clara Margaret Young is still in Pine Hill, where she is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bluckly.

Most credit is due Eugene Davies, local school monitor, for the capable and efficient way that the Tarabco people under his direction presented their Halloween entertainment, and for the very tasty cuts served the public. Mr. Davies wishes to thank each and every member of the district who in any way were so kind as to cooperate with him in his efforts.

Mrs. C. Paken of Kingston the prize for the most original costume. At 12:30 every one left for home, wishing that Halloween would come oftener.

Lester Wykeop spent the week-end in Pine Hill.

The entertainment given by the scholars and teachers on Tuesday evening in the school house was well attended by local people. The prize was awarded to James Wykeop for playing the tall on the elephant.

Refreshments were served after the entertainment by the teacher and scholars. Much credit is due Mr. Davies.

Mrs. Herman Knickke of New Jersey is visiting at her former home here and is being entertained by her sister and brother, Mary and Myron Turvilliger.

Mr. and Mrs. Ann Wykeop called on their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Wykeop, in Northampton, Sunday afternoon.

PUPILS OF HILLDALE SCHOOL ENJOY HALLOWEEN.

On Friday afternoon, October 25, the pupils of the Hilldale school enjoyed a Halloween party given them by their teacher, Mrs. Grant Schoemaker, as a reward for their perfect attendance, and punctuality during the past two months of school. Many games were played and suitable stunts performed. The children appeared in costume, which added merriment to the occasion.

Near the close of the party each pupil answered a question of an intricate "spider's web" and found a prize awaiting him.

The grownups also had their share of fun, when a community party was held at the school house on the evening of the same day. Several of the grownups were masked, and their costumes and stunts furnished plenty of amusement for all. Games were played and refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee served. The party was well attended and enjoyed by all those present.

One who took a life of "Halloween" and in the shape of "Halloween," "my expect to find himself in served at home" and "mildly amused."

THE NEW CONTRACT CODE

* ANALYZED BY AN EXPERT *

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of three articles on the new contract bridge rules by Lieut. Alfred M. Gruenther, U. S. A., to whom the nation's experts turn as referee of their important tournaments. He officiated at the Lutz-Culbertson match. Especially important to the player will be his analysis of penalties for infringements of the laws. He will compare in detail the new and old penalties, the reasons therefor, as well as the philosophy of the scoring changes.)

By LIEUT. ALFRED M. GRUENTHER, U. S. A.
(Written For The Associated Press)

The new International Contract Bridge Code which became effective in the United States, France and England November 1 should be enthusiastically received. It is a definite step forward.

Penalties for infringements of the laws have, in general, been considerably ameliorated. Following is an analysis of new and old rules:

EXAMINING A QUOTED TRICK

NEW LAW—A trick may not be examined after it has been played, except to settle a dispute involving ownership of trick. Penalty—Declarer or left hand opponent may call a lead when next it is the turn of the offending side to lead.

OLD LAW—Any player could examine quoted trick until he or his partner had played to the next succeeding trick. There was no penalty for infringement.

COMMENT—It always has been annoying to have a player look at a quoted trick. There is no good reason why a player cannot remember cards as they are played.

THE REVOKE

NEW LAW (a) A player "revokes" when he fails to follow suit when able to do so. However, revoke penalty is not assessed until "the revoke becomes established." The revoke is established as soon as the offender or his partner leads or plays to the next trick.

(b) Penalty for established revoke is two tricks for first revoke and one trick for each succeeding revoke. Tricks shall be transferred to the non-revoking side and scored as if that side had actually won the tricks in play.

(c) If no tricks are taken by revoking side after revoke has been committed there shall be no penalty. If only one trick is taken then only one trick shall be paid to the non-revoking side. Thus, assume that South is playing a contract of four hearts, and that the East-West pair win the first four tricks, the fifth trick being won by Declarer; and on that trick West revokes. If Declarer then wins the remaining tricks there will be no penalty for revoke, since revoking side failed to win any tricks after the revoke. The Declarer, therefore, has been out one trick on his four heart contract.

(d) If a player holds a card of a suit led and fails to play it when playing to the twelfth trick, that error must be corrected as soon as it is discovered. In no case will the penalty for an established revoke be assessed.

OLD LAW—The penalty of two tricks for first revoke and 100 points for each succeeding revoke was prescribed under the 1926 code of laws. Furthermore, there was no consideration given to the question as to when revoke actually took place.

COMMENT—It always has been considered unfair to collect tricks on a revoke penalty when revoke could have no possible effect on the play. The term "renounce" (failure to follow suit when able to do so) has been abandoned. Now instead of a penalty for a "revoke" and another for a "renounce," there is one penalty for "an established revoke," and a different penalty for a "revoke."

CORRECTED REVOKE

NEW LAW—If an opponent of Declarer revokes and his attention is called to the irregularity before revoke becomes established, Declarer is permitted:

1. To treat the card played in error as an exposed card, or
2. To require the offending player to play the highest or lowest card of the suit in which he failed to follow.

OLD LAW—Penalty under old law was the same. It was known as penalty for a renounce.

INSUFFICIENT BIDS

NEW LAW—If a player makes an insufficient bid and attention is directed to the error by either adversary or by partner, the bid must be made sufficient, though there is no requirement that it be made sufficient in the same suit. Thus, a player who makes an insufficient bid of two clubs over two spades may change his bid to three no trump if attention has been called to the insufficiency. The partner of the insufficient bidder is then barred from bidding when next it is his turn to declare. Thereafter the partner may reenter the auction.

OLD LAW—The old penalty barred the partner of the insufficient bidder from any further bidding on that deal.

COMMENT—The penalty imposed by the former law was too severe.

REVIEW OF THE BIDDING
NEW LAW—During auction any player may ask for review of bidding when it is his turn to declare. After auction is completed, and before first lead is made, any player may ask for complete review of bidding. After opening lead has been made any player may demand to know final bid but review of bidding may not be requested.

OLD LAW—No review of bidding was permitted after last player had passed.

COMMENT—The vast majority of bridge players have always permitted review of bidding until opening lead was made.

(Tomorrow: Lieutenant Gruenther will discuss remaining changes in penalties for infringement of the laws.)

HURLEY

Hurley, Nov. 3.—Mrs. J. W. Searles of Kingston is spending some time at Wykooop Farms at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Warren.

The turkey dinner at the church last week was well patronized and was a great success.

The last payment has been made on the painting of the church. Mrs. Emma Wilcox of Yonkers, N. Y., has returned home, after spending a week at the home of her sister, Mrs. John W. Brink.

The Halloween masquerade party held in the Sunday school room of the church, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society, was well attended. The decorations by the Rev. and Mrs. Chilton were in keeping with the event, and after an evening of games, refreshments were served.

The Home Bureau met Tuesday at the DeWitt home for their first lesson in chair caning, under the leadership of Miss Evelyn Nance. The second lesson will be given Monday, November 14. An evening of games, cards, dominoes, etc. will be held Wednesday evening, November 9, at the home of John Beatty, for the benefit of the Home Bureau. It is not necessary to be a Home Bureau member to join this party.

Thomas Newkirk was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. James McPherson for supper Sunday evening. Miss Katharine Burdane, who has been spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. McPherson, returned to her home Monday in Katrine.

Mr. and Mrs. James McPherson, who have been spending the summer here, are returning to Albany today.

PALENTOWN

Palentown, Nov. 3.—Elbert Lennon and friend, Howard Stewart, called on Joseph Lennon and family Sunday afternoon.

Burton Barringer and sister, Samantha, visited at Ervin Barringer's on Sunday.

A few from Palentown attended the Republican rally in Kingston on Saturday night.

Mrs. Eli Coddington and daughter, Jannie, spent the week-end with her oldest daughter, Mrs. Henry Starr.

Mrs. Alfred D. Merrill and son are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dymond.

Some friends are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams.

Lewis Koehl is spending some time in New York city.

A few of the school children have been staying home on account of mumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Starr were in this place on Monday forenoon.

Lester Van Kleeck called on Burton Barringer on Saturday.

Ervin Barringer's daughter, Beadie, has been visiting Samantha Barringer recently.

Everett Brannen has been night watchman on the county aid road for a short time.

Mr. Elmer was in bed with a cold on Sunday.

The 1932 city directory of Milwaukee contains a Hug, a Kiss and a Goodby.

NEW FAIR

New Paltz, Nov. 4.—J. J. Jolly, who has been spending five weeks as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Boettiger, has returned to his home in New York city. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Van Wageningen of Newark, N. J., were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Boettiger.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Palmatter entertained Mrs. Della Butler and her nephew, Edward Kilgus, from the Rossmore Polytechnic School of Troy, on Saturday.

Sixty-four dollars was cleared at the supper and sale of the Ladies Aid of Lloyd Chapel last week.

Dinner and Concert At Woodstock Nov. 11

Armistice Day in Woodstock will be served in a fitting manner this year. At six o'clock in the evening the Woodstock Post of the American Legion will serve a dinner at the Social Hall of the Methodist Church, prepared under the direction of the Legion Auxiliary.

At 8:15 p. m. Kunt Gunda, coloratura soprano, will give a recital of classical and standard popular songs at the Reformed Church. This is the first appearance of Miss Gunda since she has made Woodstock her permanent home. She is a native of Munich, Germany where she began her musical education under the direction of Hans Bloedman. Her teacher was greatly enthused over her ability and unusual voice and introduced her to the musical public of America, where her first engagements were with the German Opera Company of Chicago. Since then she has been heard in all parts of the country and has been heard frequently over the radio.

The concert in Woodstock is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association and will be a benefit to raise funds to supply milk to needy children in the local school. The admission will be reasonable.

Mrs. Gunda will be accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Cecil Chichester, who is her vocal coach in Woodstock.

Zita's Hopes For Son Fade With Foe Premier Of Hungary

Selection of General Julius Goemboos (center) as premier of Hungary is considered a setback for ex-Empress Zita who for years has pleaded to make her eldest son, Archduke Otto, successor of his father as monarch of Hungary. Goemboos wrecked the 1921 attempt of the Hapsburgs to regain the vacant throne.

Budapest (AP)—Disconsolate adherents of the Hapsburgs see in the recent selection of General Julius Goemboos as premier, a lessening of ex-Empress Zita's chances of putting her son, Otto, on the throne of Hungary.

It was General Goemboos, then a captain, who led troops to the support of the regency of Admiral Horthy and captured Zita's husband, ex-Empress Charles, when the former sovereigns made their ill-fated attempt to seize power in 1921. Goemboos' part in slitting this attempted coup has always been recalled as he has advanced since then through various posts to his present eminence. He is only 46 years old and he has surrounded himself with a cabinet of comparatively youthful ministers. Himself a Lutheran, he chose three other Protestants and four Catholics as his colleagues.

His cabinet is the first since modern Hungary was organized in 1867 not to contain a count or, at least, a baron.

He began his premiership by declaring that his chief concern would be to give Hungary a soul. He said the country had been dependent for so long that it had been unable to develop the spirit of a free nation.

MOMBACUS

Mombacrus, Nov. 3.—Sunday school was largely attended on Sunday. Everyone came out. The day was beautiful.

Mrs. H. J. Knickie of New Jersey is ill with the grip at her former home.

This place was shocked to hear of the death of George Sherman Gramet, who was hurt fixing an electric wire which had been damaged by the heavy winds. The ladder gave way with him.

Mrs. Tamie Schwab is ill. All hope for her speedy recovery. She is missed in Sunday school.

Mrs. Herman Knickie of Stanton, New Jersey, is spending several days with her brother, Myron Terwilliger, and sister, Miss Terwilliger.

William Doy is well as his many friends wish he was.

The county road is being worked on at good headway. A gang of men and trucks are handling gravel. Jacob Terwilliger is drawing apples to Poughkeepsie. He makes several trips.

ROSE & GORMAN

Baron Opens New Sportswear Store

Samuel Baron, who comes to Kingston with an experience of 15 years in the sportswear and knit goods line in New York City, is opening up a store at 44 North Front street, adjoining the Liscarde fruit store.

Mr. Baron announces his grand opening for Saturday morning and a feature of the first day will be the distribution of free souvenirs to all customers. The new store will feature ladies' and misses' knit goods and sportswear of all kinds and the aim will be to carry an up to date line of these goods at reduced prices.

Mr. Baron, who has many friends in Kingston, states that the idea will be to present something "different" and he feels that the new store will fill a long felt want in Kingston. He plans in the near future to open similar stores in Newburgh and Poughkeepsie.

HURLEY

Hurley, Nov. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Joy and Mr. and Mrs. Clark have moved from the old Markle home to Kingston. Mr. Joy is county leader of the 4-H Clubs.

Over 100 attended the C. E. Hall-ween social on Monday evening in the church basement. The room was decorated with yellow and black crepe paper, jack-o-lanterns, corn stalks and black cats. Almost everyone was masked. At 9 o'clock the grand march was staged. A prize was given to Ada Stauble for having the best costume. Her costume was that of a colored farmer and many said that she well earned her prize. Games were played and a good time enjoyed by all. Refreshments which were served consisted of Hallowitchies, witch brew, goblin cake and apples.

The P. T. A. study group met at the home of Mrs. C. Hutton on Friday evening. Mrs. C. Hutton had charge of the meeting.

Miss O'Reilly, the lower grade teacher, spent Friday evening with Mrs. Hutton, so as to be able to attend the P. T. A. study group.

Last week several men received their share of pheasants. Others carried their guns for four long days and never even shot it off.

Sympathy of friends is extended to Mrs. B. Dunn and family in the loss of her son-in-law, George Sherman, of Kerhonkson, who died on Monday. Mr. Sherman, an electrician, was fixing the wiring between the Ira Patten and Ira Oliver places when he fell from the ladder, one day last week.

FEDERAL AGENTS BUST LAST WEDNESDAY

Among a number of seizures and arrests made by Kingston prohibition investigators Wednesday were two in Kingston, one at 13 Dunn street, the other at 2 Second avenue.

At the first address they arrested Kenneth Whalen and seized alleged whiskey, home brew and cider. At the second address premises they seized alleged home brew and mash and arrested Edward Gallagher. Both defendants were held for arraignment before Commissioner Connelley on charges of possession and sale.

Two arrests were also made in Poughkeepsie. At 125 Main street they arrested Ercole Taura and seized alleged whiskey and home brew. At 478 Main street Leo Freer was arrested and alleged whiskey and home brew seized. Both were arraigned before Commissioner Platt on charges of possession and sale.

GOV. ROOSEVELT SAYS PEOPLE AGAINST HOOVER.

New York, Nov. 4 (AP).—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt says the "people have resolved to put out of power" the Hoover administration, which he characterizes as "a government by guess and by gamble."

Speaking last night at the Republican for Roosevelt League rally in historic Metropolitan Opera House, before an audience estimated by police at 6,000, Mr. Roosevelt said: "I rejoice that Republicans everywhere have decided to lay aside party, to put their shoulders to the wheel to achieve recovery, not by magic of gambling, but by hard common sense, and above all by serious and resolute action."

MISS ELIZABETH J. HASBROUCK

Ellenville, Nov. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hasbrouck, wife of Joseph Hasbrouck, died on Sunday at her home in Nanapanoch. She was born on February 21, 1861, the daughter of William and Anna Gibson McElroy and lived all her life in this vicinity. Surviving are the husband and two sons, her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Alex McElroy of this village, Sam of Wawarsing, John of Nanapanoch, and William of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Andrew Gray of Nanapanoch, and Mrs. Alden Van Fleet of Wawarsing. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at St. John's Episcopal Church, the Rev. George R. Hilt officiating. Burial was in Pine Bush Cemetery in Kerhonkson.

Joseph Zakowski of 303 Third avenue, who for 20 years was employed by the New York Central Railroad, died this morning. Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. Peter Tucker and Mrs. John Prucnal of Kingston, and one son, Harry Zakowski of Tappan Lake, N. Y.; 16 grandchildren and one brother, Victor Zakowski of Worcester, Mass. His wife was the late Agnes Jurek. Mr. Zakowski was one of the oldest parishioners of Immaculate Conception Church which he helped to build. He was also a member of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary Society. Mr. Zakowski was born in Poland and came to the United States 40 years ago. Funeral from his late home Monday at 9 a. m. and at 9:30 o'clock at Immaculate Conception Church, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Miss Elizabeth J. Hasbrouck, daughter of Jacob D. and Ann Oliver Hasbrouck, died at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Walter D. Hasbrouck, of 85 O'Neil street, Thursday. She was born at the Colabaugh, the family seat of the Colabaugh Hasbroucks, later the home of Lake Schoonmaker, Marlbletown, in 1841. By occupation she was a teacher of mathematics, astronomy and Latin. The Wright School at Poughkeepsie, the Young Ladies' Seminary at Delhi, Miss Whitcomb's School in Brooklyn and the Plainfield Young Ladies' Seminary were schools in which she taught. Miss Hasbrouck was a woman of brilliant attainments and most successful in her profession which was interrupted many years ago by illness. For a long time she attended church in the Brooklyn Tabernacle under the preaching of Henry Ward Beecher and despite attacks made against him remained steadfast and loyal. She was a sister of the late Josiah Hasbrouck, Sr., of Port Ewen; Mrs. Alexander S. Clark of Westfield, N. J., and Mary C. Hasbrouck of the same place. Surviving her are two nephews, Judge O. D. E. Hasbrouck of Kingston and Dr. John M. Hasbrouck of Garrisonville, N. Y. Funeral services will be held at the residence of Judge Hasbrouck, 209 Clinton avenue, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Married Women Club Met Thursday

There were nearly 100 present at the Thursday meeting of the Young Married Women's Club of the Y. W. C. A. and the program planned by Mrs. Henry Millonig, Jr., was an unusually delightful one.

A short business session was held in charge of the vice-president, Mrs. Henry Wood, the president, Mrs. R. O. Lewis, being absent on account of illness. Mrs. Maxwell Taylor then took charge of the program, and read a splendid paper on the melodies of Norway. She spoke of the mystic dances, the love songs and the tender qualities of the music. In particular the paper dealt with the great composer, Grieg, sometimes called the Chopin of the North on account of his tender, haunting themes, and she showed how he was influenced by the violinist, Ole Bull.

Mrs. Taylor then introduced Madame Kaul Gunda, a native of Munich, Germany, an artist of great talent, at present spending the winter at Woodstock. Madame Gunda began her musical education under the direction of Hans Bloderman, well known throughout Europe and America. Her first engagements in this country were with the German Opera Company of Chicago and she immediately entered the ranks of popular concert artists. Madame Gunda has a charming personality and a distinctive coloratura voice of lyric quality and her singing is characterized by a warmth and buoyancy which is delightful. It also contains that crisp staccato quality which.

TIBETANS BESIEGE TOWN TWO MONTHS

Batang, Border City, Scene of Hard Fighting.

Washington.—Batang, one of the most remote towns in Asia, far up the Yangtze river on the frontier of Tibet, has been under siege for two months by Tibetan tribesmen, with both Tibetan attackers and Chinese defenders occupying buildings of American missionaries. A bulletin from the National Geographic society tells of Batang and the surrounding country.

"The border region," says the bulletin, "is a country of mountains. Batang, the chief city, is one of the lowest points, and yet its altitude is 9,000 feet above sea level, nearly four-fifths of a mile higher than Denver.

Most of the surrounding country is 12,000 to 15,000 feet high, the latter altitudes being more than 500 feet higher than Mount Whitney, California, highest peak in the United States proper. From this great upland rise numerous peaks 20,000 feet and more in height.

The view from the summits of some of the passes that must be traversed in traveling about this marvellously rugged country can hardly be surpassed anywhere in the world. The panorama for hundreds of miles on a clear day is one of countless high peaks interspersed with greater snowy masses that exceed in height the topmost planities of all other continents.

Some Fine Forests.

Below timber line are some fine forests, and the Alpine-like flowers of the short summer are exceedingly beautiful. Here and there among the mountains are clear, sparkling lakes, their waters so cold that in most of them fish cannot live.

Kham, the easternmost province of Tibet, gives its color to the entire border region, and its people are said to be the most robust of all Tibetans. Many of the people of Kham are nomads, who tend their flocks of sheep and yak as they graze over the uplands, and live in black yak-hair tents. Other more settled people live in mud-walled houses and engage in a crude sort of farming in the valleys where the altitude is low enough for grain to mature.

The nomads live the year round in their tents, seldom even entering a house. When the lower slopes of the mountains become free from snow in the spring, they begin their upward pilgrimage with their herds, closely following the receding snow line, until in summer they are living far up in the highlands and on the sides of the peaks.

When winter begins to set in they make the reverse journey, going down to the valleys only as fast as the descending snow line drives them. In this way they are able to utilize the supply of grass to best advantage.

The herders remain close to the snow also because their yak thrive best in a cold temperature and cannot, in fact, stand any great degree of heat, especially if introduced into the warmer temperature suddenly.

Too Low for Yaks.

So carefully must the yak's predilection for cold be indulged that traders bringing supplies in summer from the high country to Batang will not drive their animals into the town. They unload ten miles from their supposed destination, at a point about 12,000 feet in altitude, and the Batang caravans must provide transportation for the remainder of the distance to the 9,000-foot level.

The towns of Tibet are in most cases small groups of dwelling houses and a few shops in valleys at the foot of steep and winding paths leading to some monastery that towers above on the steep mountainside. Batang differs from the typical town in having a much larger group of houses and in being surrounded by an extensive area of terraced fields. A huge monastery for lamas existed above the town at one time, but was destroyed by the Chinese during one of their invasions. Batang derives most of its importance from the trade route between China and Tibet, which passes through the place.

The eastern Tibetans live on queer foods from an American point of view. One staple is parched barley meal, called "tsamba." Another is "butter tea." First strong tea is made, and into it is churned yak butter and salt. A third food is dried milk. Many tribesmen eat practically no other foods the year around.

Most of the married women among the eastern Tibetans have a number of husbands simultaneously. They usually marry three or four brothers. One husband will take care of the home in the valley. If there is one another will be in charge of the yak or sheep in the uplands; a third will be the trader taking care of the caravan; while others will be assigned to still other special duties.

New Wool Weaves Are Irresistible

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

YOU couldn't if you tried resist the lure of the new wool weaves with which human ingenuity has blessed us this season. In days of yore it would not have been thought possible that woolen could be made so unbelievably sheer, and lacy and spongy and lightweight and colorful and delightful and novel in weave and altogether such as you "love to wear" as they now are.

In view of the subtleties of color and weave which have transformed wool into super-fabrics, small wonder is it that a hue and a cry for wool material has been set up which extends the length and breadth of all fashiondom. So much so, that wool-one of the idyllic modern type have become a necessary luxury for morning, noon and night wear. Yes, we said "night," for some of the most swaggy evening gowns are made of sheers woolens this season. Mone-tone versions which introduce checks, squares, circles and other geometrics in delicate of lacy weaves are high-spots in the fabric realm.

An idea which Paris backs up to that of plaid woolens. There is nothing smarter for daytime wear than a plaid wool one-piece dress with metal accents in the way of buttons, clips, belts and buckles.

If you are not keen on having your dress all of plaid, but you think you will be before the season is far-spent, then compromise on a costume which goes half-and-half on plaid and plain. We would suggest along this line a handsome ensemble such as is here pictured to the right. This nifty sports outfit is in autumn browns and beige with cream white. It is one of the latest among Parisian fashions.

Other of the not-to-be-resisted woolens which you will be invited to consider when you start out on a shopping tour in search of likable media for the new suit, the ensemble, the frock, blouse or coat which is in the planning stage, is rabbit's wool, or possibly you will like the soft ostrich cloth better. For the casual spectator frock these weaves are wonderfully good looking. You will like the new tweeds, too, with their striped and often indeterminate patterning.

Soft shadow-striped wool is an excellent fabric item and it comes in glorious autumn colorings. The jacket suit illustrated to the left is red in tone. The attractive neckpiece and sleeve adornment exemplifies a theory which many designers are supporting this season that it is not the amount of fur which is used but a "tricky" handling of it which conveys the message of ultra chic. The belt is of ruby suede to which the little velvet hat is accurately color matched. Observe that the jacket is the new longer length.

Other interesting woolens in the newest collections place accent on homespun and simple tweeds for town, college and general wear. The return of cashmere and similar materials is cited, those in pastel colorings receiving special mention as pleasing and modish for negligee costumes.

Eggs That Are Eaten

Birds which climb trees for a special purpose have been found in Venezuela. These reptiles swallow alligator eggs whole, sacred to the top of a tree, and calmly drop off, thus breaking the shells of the eggs.

Venerable Immigrant

Probably the oldest immigrant to arrive in this country among the colonial settlers was John Young (a name to offset his fame), born in the island of Burt, near Londonderry. He was sixty-five when he landed in Boston.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 4 (AP).—Bear found themselves down a blind alley in today's stock market, and prices rebounded smartly as they retraced their steps.

The slightest complete cessation of selling in the previous session left the short interest a little uncertain, and as wheat developed a better tone today, bears found the market strongly against them. Prices surged up easily, with trading still in small volume. Gains of 2 to more than 4 points were numerous.

Issues up about 2 to 4 included American Can, American Telephone, American Tobacco "B", Allied Chemical, Consolidated Gas, Case, International Harvester, Santa Fe, United States Steel, Union Pacific, United Aircraft and others. Alcohol issues, and others regarded in speculative quarters as possibly likely to benefit from changes in prohibition laws.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, Nov. 4.—The local Red Cross campaign for subscriptions is now under way and will continue until Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. E. Winchell, membership chairman for the town of Olive, has named the following women as district workers in the interests of the fund: Mrs. Floyd Merrihue, Ashokan; Mrs. C. A. Winchell, Shokan; Mrs. Alonzo Davis, Olive Bridge; and Mrs. Clara Burgher, West Shokan. All donations, large and small, will be thankfully received by the canvassers, who are planning to visit every family in the township.

Master Herbert Wells on Thursday afternoon, November 3, was the host at a party given in honor of his seventh birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Wells, of Church Hill. Guests present at the party included 13 playmates of Herbert at the Shokan public school. Games were played and a supper consisting of frankfurters, potato salad, beans, huckleberries, cake and chocolate was served by Mrs. Wells, assisted by her sister, Miss Maude Constantine. The children present at this enjoyable affair were as follows: Arthur, Herbert and Clifford Wells; Robert and Lois Robeson; Alva Winchell; Marilyn Tyler; John Kira; Otto and Margaret Grossman; Beatrice and Merrill Wheat; and Carmen Lopez.

Mr. and Mrs. Delaney N. Mathews of Kingston were numbered among the callers in Shokan on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Stubby has received and planted a shipment of evergreen shrubs. The spacious grounds of the Stubby place now present one of the most complete assortments of ornamental shrubbery along the north boulevard.

A local marriage of November 4, 1932, was that of Louis H. Hyatt to Susan M. Barclay. The ceremony being performed by the Rev. Louis F. Piper, pastor of the Shokan M. E. Church at that time. The groom was a member of a well known Olive family, and his bride was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Barclay, who now make their home in Ashokan.

Local hunters who have bagged their deer this season include Ralph Buley of the Tonawanda mountain road and J. S. Moore of the Orchard Lunch filling station. The deer brought in by Mr. Moore was one of the best specimens ever seen here, weighing 250 pounds and having 16 points to its antlers. Nearly all of the boys are now patrolling the woods and it is likely that more killings will be made here today and Saturday.

OFFICERS OF TINKLEWA REBEKAH LODGE INSTALLED

Phoenix, Nov. 4.—The officers of the Tinklewa Rebekah Lodge, No. 619, were installed by Mrs. Harriet Pelen, D. D. P., of Kingston and staff on Tuesday evening. The officers chosen for the ensuing year were: Edna Cole, N. G. H.; Harriet Pelen, D. D. P.; Bertha Brethaupt and Mrs. Nellie Johnson, Mrs. Mary Morris, V. G. Her supporters were Miss Harriet Loomis and Mrs. Minnie Bell. Miss Lorna Van Demark, recording secretary; Mrs. Augusta Neke, treasurer; Mrs. Jeanne Breitaupt, warden; Miss Helen Gulnac, conductor; Miss Frances Hill, chaplain; Miss Mary Van Stumbergh, musician; Mrs. Ruth Crosby, L. G.; Archie Stewart, O. G. The financial secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Law, will be installed at a later date by P. D. D. P., Harriet Loomis.

Mrs. Pelen and staff conducted the installation very nicely. There were guests from Kingston, Bearville, Saugerties and West Saugerties, and also from Echo Dell, Hunter. The hall was pleasing in its decoration of autumn leaves. At the close of the meeting a social time was enjoyed and appetizing refreshments served.

WATER BOARD AND ALDERMEN INSPECT WATERSHED TODAY.

A number of the members of the common council accompanied Mayor Carey and the board of water commissioners on an inspection trip to the Kingston watershed today. The party met at the city hall this morning and left by automobile for the water works.

NOVEMBER MEETING OF WILTYCK CHAPTER D. A. R.

The November meeting of Wiltyck Chapter, D. A. R., was an outstanding meeting in that the guest of honor for the day was Mrs. Robert Hamilton Gibbs of Schenectady, state regent. There was a large attendance of members at the chapter meeting, among them several D. A. R. members from Saugerties. The Kingston regent, Mrs. G. N. Wood, felicitously introduced Mrs. Gibbs, who spoke at some length and most interestingly to the D. A. R. members on the work and general activities of the Daughters of the American Revolution, fostering patriotism, neighborliness toward those of foreign birth new our neighbors, and education along historic lines. The hostesses for the afternoon were Miss Idella Hyde and Mrs. Silas Le Fèvre.

Previous to the meeting a luncheon was attended at the Governor Clinton Hotel in honor of State Regent Mrs. Gibbs, and was attended by the Kingston regent, the officers of the chapter and members of the local board.

"TIN HAT" MAN ASKS PAYMENT FROM U. S.

British War Inventors Await Fate of Claims.

Washington.—A report on whether British inventors are entitled to approximately $2,500,000 for "tin hats" and other equipment used by American soldiers and sailors during the World War is being prepared by a committee of American military men, diplomats and legislators.

Testimony, gathered by the committee during recent sessions in London, will be the basis of the report, which is to be submitted to Secretary of War Harley Wood. If Harley approves, he will recommend payment to congress. If that body acts favorably, the claims will be added to America's already staggering war bill.

"Tin hats" are one of the principal items. The headgear adopted by the United States army was invented by an Englishman, John L. Brodie. Millions of these hats were used. Brodie's efforts to obtain royalties under the American patent failed, but he is asking remuneration for the hats purchased from Great Britain.

Other war equipment for which British inventors are seeking compensation includes a device for throwing depth charges from submarines, an "aid to the spotter" for submarines, a depth-charge laying apparatus and certain secret codes.

The commission for adjustment of British claims was appointed by Harley last July. It included Lieut.-Col. Joseph I. McMullen, chairman; Assistant Attorney-General Charles R. Hugg; legal adviser; Assistant Secretary of State Harvey H. Bundy and Lieut. Com. Robert A. Lavender. U. S. N. Bruce McMullen, son of Colonel McMullen, acted as attorney for the United States.

Girl Proffers Feathers as College Tuition Fee

Bloomington, Ill.—Duck feathers, for pellets, farm produce and even live stock comprised tuition fees offered by students entering Illinois Wesleyan university when it opened for the fall term recently.

Nate Crabtree, business manager of the school, said the offer of the duck feathers came from a girl in Missouri. Her father, he said, owned a duck farm.

Unusual "fees" were offered as a result of an announcement by the school authorities that they would accept farm produce in lieu of cash because of economic conditions. The produce was to be accepted at prices ranging from 5 to 20 per cent above the market quotations.

Approximately 25 students took advantage of the school's offer. As a result the university now has stored in local warehouses and elevators an abundance of potatoes, corn, wheat, oats and other staple products. The university plans to sell them when the market is more opportune.

Swedish Police May Use Movies in Riot Trials

Stockholm.—The police here are seriously thinking of using moving picture cameras during public disturbances to help them gain convictions.

Still taken during political riots and the like, have often been produced in court as evidence to show some person or persons in the act of stone throwing. The trouble with stills, however, is that although a person may be shown with a stone in his hand, there is no actual proof that the stone was thrown by that person. A moving picture camera would record every movement of the throwing, or as the case may be the striking of a blow. Experts are working on a camera of the baby type which can be carried easily, worked easily, and operated from a distance.

Man Evades Army Duty by Using Feminine Name

Kemmerliker, Turkey.—By mis-spelling his name a peasant of this village made himself officially a woman and for seven years escaped military service and taxes. Handed over to the military police, he was released when he registered at his coming of age. He was heavily fined.

Family of Twins

East St. Louis, Ill.—Three sets of twins are included in the family of Mr. and Mrs. William Fallon, a city brewer here. The latest set of twins were born several weeks ago.

Stock Boom Brings Out Hoarded Cash

Gary, Ind.—The stock market boom is lifting hoarded cash from cashiers here. Profits offered by W. W. Gasser, president of the Gary State bank, in pointing out that money from his own safety deposit boxes is being taken out and placed in the stock market.

Gasser recalled a recent instance when a patron placed $1,000 in gold coins, somewhat oxidized from long storage, on the counter in exchange for industrial stocks.

Increasing quantities of the old "brick star" bank notes of $5 and $10 denominations are turning up, he said.

Gasser said he was of the firm opinion that the "dehoarding" symptoms were genuine omen for a gradual return of "good times."

Monkeys Eat Scorpions

Although monkeys subsist for the most part on vegetables and fruit they occasionally enjoy caterpillars, centipedes and other creepy things for variety. They are especially fond of scorpions.

Machines That Are Almost Human

By E. C. TAYLOR

Mechanical Men

FROM ages man has aspired to build with his own hands mechanical men, birds, beasts and fish that would perform at his bidding.

Today there are mechanical men that see, hear, feel and talk. Plans have been drawn without a human hand touching the controls. Beasts have been sent on voyages without a human being aboard.

More wonderful than these, even, are "thinking machines" that surpass the human brain in ability to solve difficult problems.

Man has constructed marvelous machines that can perform all his tasks better than he can perform them himself, and hundreds of these machines are in constant use throughout the country. But they lack one thing that has placed man above other animals. They cannot really think for themselves. They must be directed by their human creators.

A short time ago the duke of York was scheduled to open the annual exhibition of model engineers in Royal Albert Hall, London. He found he could not get back from Scotland in time, so Capt. W. R. Richardson, a British scientist, built a mechanical man to take the duke of York's place.

Eric Robot—so Captain Richardson named his creature of wheels and batteries—stood before the gathering of engineers and scientists, spoke for four minutes, and then sat down. He could have spoken for four hours or four days, his inventor said.

Eric Robot later toured the United States. He didn't smoke, chew or swear, and made many friends. In appearance, he looked like a knight in armor. He weighed 160 pounds and was built entirely of aluminum. He could do everything but walk, apparently. He talked, and rose and sat down when told. He had a set of aluminum teeth to aid his voice, and his speech was much better than that of most lecturers.

He was operated by electricity, of course, and his highly sensitive mechanism responded to sound. When spoken words reached his microphone, the vibrations started machinery inside him that carried out the spoken directions. He even gave imitations of George Bernard Shaw and H. G. Wells during his appearances on the lecture platform.

The "Telerex," which gave the power of speech to mechanical men, was invented by R. J. Wensley of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company in 1928. Previously mechanical men could only hear and obey. Mr. Wensley found a way to make them talk back.

He demonstrated the robot's ability to answer by attaching a telerex to a telephone; "Telerex speaking."

Mr. Wensley's telerex can even initiate a conversation. If something goes wrong, for instance, at a power station where it is on duty it can lift a telephone receiver and say:

"This is telerex calling for Main 3000."

When the telephone connection has been completed, Mr. Telerex will continue the conversation in human code.

In place of vocal cords, this mechanical man has a talking film introduced among its vital organs. The words to be spoken are recorded on a film, and are projected when the mechanical man is called upon to speak.

"Rastus" is another mechanical man produced by the Westinghouse laboratories. He was built by Dr. Philip Thomas, and has performed before scientists several times.

Rastus not only can answer back, start conversations, sit or stand as he is bidden, but can answer questions and greet his callers almost like a human being. He is built to resemble a man, with legs and arms and a head, with a face like a dark-skinned minstrel. Hence his name.

Eric Robot and Rastus, of course, are for exhibition only. They were built to show how near to creating a mechanical man—science has progressed. The devices that operate them, however, are in daily use in industries, safeguarding lives and guarding property.

One-Sided

Joseph H. Shady, president of the United States Steamship Line, was discussing communism.

"The Russians are propagandizing all they want to," he said, "we'll never have communism in this country."

"The average American's idea of Russian communism, and a pretty accurate idea it is, comes out in a little anecdote."

"That's a Communist, isn't he? one young laboring man said to another."

"No he isn't," said the other young laboring man. "He is for fair. He borrows my money, he helps himself to my tobacco, and now I'm damned if he doesn't want to write to my girl."

Black Walnut Borewood Plot

The black walnut of California is properly named because it is the black sheep of the walnut family, according to L. R. Oddy, Santa Clara county horticultural commissioner. The black walnut shell is hard to crack, so the nuts are not acceptable commercially, but the trees are used for ornamental purposes. The result is that these trees, in some instances become breeding places for pests which spread to the commercial groves of English walnut trees.

Safety First

Certain African tribes require that a man be so agile to marry that he be able to run, jump, swim and fight. These items evidently are listed in the order of their importance.—Atlanta Constitution.

Tombstone Lives the Old Days Over Again

CELEBRATING the fifty-second anniversary of the founding of their city, the people of Tombstone restored so far as they could the old time appearance and atmosphere when that place was famous as a center of the life of the then untamed Far West. The photograph shows the reconstructed Crystal Palace saloon that was a rendezvous of the "bad men" and the quick-triggered good men and the scene of many a shooting affair.

STONE RIDGE

Stone Ridge, Nov. 4.—The annual Thanksgiving Union Service will be held on Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock in the Reformed Church. The Rev. F. Huits of the M. E. Church will deliver the Thanksgiving message. The preliminaries and prayer will be in charge of the Rev. C. Van Tol, pastor of the Reformed Church. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Marie Hasbrouck was hostess to the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church, where they gathered on Thursday afternoon to hold their monthly meeting.

A very successful Halloween social was held on Monday night in the basement of the Reformed Church under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society. The room was fittingly decorated with colors of the holiday spirit. About seventy young and old, turned out to enjoy the evening. Games appropriate to the day were played and refreshments were served.

Services in the Reformed Church on Sunday, Sunday School at 9:30. L. D. Sahler, superintendent. Morning worship at 10:30. The sermon topic will be "The Golden Age of Peace."

The Christian Endeavor will meet at 7 o'clock. The topic will be, "What are the Effects of Military Training in Schools?" The leader will be announced later. All are invited to attend any or all of these services.

The Men's Community Club will meet on Thursday, November 17, in the basement of the Reformed Church. There will be a departure from the regular method of entertainment this month. Instead of a speaker or music the program will consist of games. The men of the club are requested to attend.

The P. T. A. will meet for the month of November on Friday, November 11, at 2:30 in the schoolhouse. A program will be presented by the children of the school. All are requested to attend.

Airplane Bombing

The Air Corps News says that from all accounts the first use of an airplane to drop bombs occurred in 1911 during the Italian campaign in Tripoli. The next use of the aerial bomb was by the Spanish forces in the Moroccan campaign. A German airplane used the first bombs in the World War in a raid on Paris August 30, 1914.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Marlborough, Nov. 4.—The newly elected officers of Court Santa Maria, No. 970, Catholic Daughters of America, were installed Tuesday evening by Mrs. Margaret T. Gorman, district deputy, from Kingston. Following are the officers for 1932: Grand regent, Miss Marion Barry; vice grand regent, Miss Catherine Monahan; prophetess, Miss Millie Williams; lecturer, Mrs. Gertrude McCarthy; historian, Mrs. Margaret Daniels; financial secretary, Mrs. Lucy Galloway; treasurer, Mrs. Lucy Morrow; mentor, Mrs. Cora Woodhead; assistant, Miss Helen Walsh; organist, Mrs. Margaret Wood; trustees, Mrs. Mary Hannigan and Mrs. Susan Bradley. After the installation Mrs. Gorman addressed the court and urged the members to cooperate with the new officers that this year might be an outstanding success. Mrs. Gorman was presented with a pretty basket of flowers. Following the installation luncheon was served in charge of Mrs. Frank Hannigan.

The Rev. J. F. Hanley, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and Mr. Gorman of Kingston were guests at the luncheon, after which the Rev. J. F. Hanley gave a nice talk in behalf of the local Court of the C. D. of A.

LYONSVILLE

Lyonsville, Nov. 4.—A few from this place visited Kingston on Saturday evening.

Mr. Baker spent the week-end with his son, Wayne Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gunkling of Newburgh called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Alexander one evening the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. James B. Davis and daughter spent Sunday with relatives in Mid-Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Oakley and son spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osterbrook and daughter in Stone Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis took a trip to Middletown and other points on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kestner of Newburgh spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Oakley spent Sunday with relatives out of town.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis and daughter called on Mr. and Mrs. Ray Davis on Sunday evening.

Peter L. Davis spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd V. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter L. Davis on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanigan and

Miss Anna Hess on Wednesday evening

Miss Evelyn B. Davis and Joe Burgher of Middletown called on friends Sunday evening.

A few of the farmers in this place are busy doing their fall plowing.

Mrs. Fay, who has been spending a few weeks at her place here, has gone to the city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis were in town on Thursday afternoon.

KENNA

Kenna, Nov. 4.—On Friday evening last week the school children of School No. 7, under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Florence Hill, had invited all parents and friends to attend a Halloween party to be held in the Social Hall. Coconuts were many and very comical.

There is no doubt but a happy and successful atmosphere prevailed in the hall. Numerous games were played in which both old and young took part, and Miss Hill later awarded prizes to the winners. Refreshments consisted of cider, sandwiches, cake, cranberry and apple, and everybody surely had a good time.

Where DUSO Teams Play On Saturday

All the other teams of the DUSO league will be pitted against a team Saturday afternoon but Kingston, which game was cancelled last week because the team was unable to play after the members of the grid eleven had to be vaccinated when it was discovered that cases of measles had broken out in the student body. This game, however, will be played on November 5. The Kingston Secords will meet this Saturday afternoon against Walden High.

Newburgh will be the only DUSO team playing on familiar territory. The Academy eleven clashes with Peekskill in Newburgh. Peekskill has a good record for the season. It has taken over some of the best squads without a blemish. Poughkeepsie is the only team that beat them and according to that the Bridge City must have a good eleven. This naturally means that Kingston will have a tough job holding its own.

The Newburgh-Peekskill meeting is scheduled to be rather a gala affair. Reports say that the guests of the Blue and Yellow are bringing along their 40 piece band and Vice Principal David McKeever of Newburgh has asked the students to assemble in a body and march to the stadium. There should be school spirit and plenty of it.

Newburgh will start the sale of tickets for the Kingston-Newburgh game Monday. All seats bought before hand will most likely be reserved.

Middleton at Schenectady

The Middleton aggregation travels to Schenectady Saturday to battle once more with Nott Terrace High, the team which Middleton defeated last season, 40-6. This fall might tell a different story. Middleton has lost the squad it was last year and Nott Terrace is greatly improved over the year of '31. So a third defeat might be in the path of the Middleton.

Port vs. N. Y. M. A.

The powerful Red and Black team of Coach Al Chase will move over to the New York Military Academy gridiron to test its strength against the Cadets in what is forecasted to be a one-sided battle in favor of Port. The Academy is below par this season and Port is hitting the high mark of efficiency.

The Military School's record of what has taken place is rather poor. Newton Academy, a victim of Port, defeated the Cadets, 14-0, and the weak Raymond Rindon School held them to a 7-7 tie. Rindon took a terrible beating from Newburgh and Port had a more difficult time with the Prep boys because of the bad football they played that afternoon. Newburgh also trimmed N. Y. M. A., 20-0.

Schofield, who was kept out of the Kingston game last Saturday because of injuries, will be in shape to do service for his school against the Cadets. Coach Chase added a new man to his eleven within the past week. A boy named Cliff Taylor of Mount Vernon, recently transferred to Port Jervis, has been declared eligible and is now in the backfield. Taylor was a crack track man in Mt.

Vernon and runner-up for the Westchester county honors. This is one more threat that Newburgh and Middleton will have to contend with that Kingston shared.

The schedule:
Peekskill at Newburgh.
Middleton at Schenectady (Nott Terrace).
Port Jervis at N. Y. M. A. Kingston idle.

Crowd Sees Spinnys Open With Victory Over Bigelow Five

Before a record crowd at Pythian Hall, Port Jervis, Thursday night, the Spinnys quintet opened its basketball season with a 34-30 victory over the Bigelows of Saugerties. "Blag" Van Etten went out in front in individual scoring, dinking the spheres for 14 points. Dan Joyce, his teammate, was next with 10.

As indicated by the final score, the contest was closely fought and the lead saw-sawed between the fighting basketballers. The first quarter ended 7-5 in favor of the Bigelows. At halftime the Spinnymen were out in front 16-13 and the third quarter terminated 23-11. Fighting hard in the closing period, Rivenberg and Hayes, Saugerties forwards, gave their brigade a 27-23 edge near the end of the session, but Van Etten and Joyce came through with enough shots to overcome the lead and put the game in the bag for Spinnys.

The box score:

Maccabees Will Oppose Hebrews

The Hebrew Americans will open their season against the Maccabees of Newburgh at the Downtown Jewish Community Center on the evening of Monday, November 14. Last season the Newburghers won 30 out of 37 games. Members of the team are former high school varsity players.

Lineup of the Hebrews consists of O. and M. Basch, J. Spitzer, B. Rosenberg, G. Goldfarb, L. Levine, M. Bahl and Joe Basch. The latter was the last man signed for the team and is expected to prove a valuable addition.

The Y. P. L. Girls will play the preliminary game, meeting the Winkly Five. A definite lineup has not been picked owing to the strong competition for berths on the team.

Basketball at St. Mary's Tonight

St. Mary's Holy Name Basketball League will start tonight in the school hall at 7:15 o'clock with the following schedule:

Visitations vs. Ramblers.
Shamrocks vs. Artistics.
Celtics vs. Ascensions.
William Jordan will be the referee.

ALLABEN

Arthur Brundage of Brooklyn is spending several weeks at his home in Peek Hollow.

Mrs. Flora Van Keuren of Arena was a dinner guest of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Webster of "The Pines Colony" on Wednesday.

Edward Ocker, Jr., of Allaben Heights was very fortunate in shooting a large deer having 14 points on Tuesday. This is the largest deer shot in this vicinity for many years.

Augustus Winne and daughters, Helen and Lila, of Phoenixia, called on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Winne on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers of Phoenixia have recently moved to the property across from the Town Hall.

Mrs. Robert Fox called on Miss Esther Riesler on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Gordon Yerry of Fox Hollow, Mrs. W. D. Coons and Miss Dorothy Coons of Shandaken were entertained at tea on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Joseph Garrity at "The Margaret Hotel".

Leon Builey, town clerk, has been kept very busy these days issuing hunting licenses.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones had their son, Frank, Jr., baptized by the Rev. Mr. Bonner of the Free Methodist Church on Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bonner called on Mrs. Ira Olmstead in Fox Hollow on Monday evening. Mrs. Olmstead has been ill for several weeks and is slowly improving.

Miss Luella Garrity, Mrs. E. Baker and Miss Janice Baker of Fleischmanns were in Kingston on Tuesday.

Mrs. Grace Builey returned to Poughkeepsie with her son, Victor, on Sunday, and expects to spend the winter months there.

Mrs. Joseph Garrity was a dinner guest of Mrs. Rufus Whitney of Kingston on Sunday evening.

Mrs. White of Robert was a weekend guest of her mother, Mrs. Edward Rowe.

ANTON LANG'S SON IS NOW PROFESSOR

Oberammergau Youth Joins Georgetown Faculty

Washington.—Anton Lang, Jr., twenty-three-year-old son of the peasant actor of Oberammergau, whose fame is long throughout Christendom for his portrayal of the Christ in the "Passion Play," has joined the faculty of Georgetown university as professor of German.

The serious young man who first encountered the tumult and bustle of American life as a student at Holy Cross college, where he was graduated in 1923 with the degree of bachelor of arts, brings word that the citizens of his Bavarian village are planning even now for the next presentation of the famous drama to be given in the summer of 1934.

This occasion, marking the tricentennial anniversary of the first Passion Play, is an unusual departure in time, for it has been presented only at ten-year periods, the latest being in 1920.

Lang's father would turn down any offer of motion pictures of the drama in 1921, as was done before when economic conditions were acute.

"Our people will never permit the Passion Play to be commercialized in the movies, no matter how much the villagers need the money," he explained.

During the nearly four years since his departure from the United States Lang has been living in the peace of his Alpine village, pursuing postgraduate work. Like his famous father, he speaks English with scarcely an accent. But unlike his father, whose long hair and flowing beard suggests some of the older Italian paintings of Jesus, the son seems typical of the younger generation.

Through his former two years' residence in this country Lang is used to American ways, but is frank in saying he will never become accustomed to American automobiles, which he believes have "taken all the romance away."

He came to Washington direct from Oberammergau, where his parents, two brothers and three sisters live. As all the other members of the Lang family—there are 22 in the village bearing the name, and his relatives number about 150—he has taken part himself in the Passion Play. He was a member of the orchestra in 1920.

His father, who has played the Christus three times—more often than any other man—speaks the prologues for the various scenes in the last enactment.

Twins Fishes
"Siamese twins" among fish are a common occurrence. In state hatcheries even specimens with two perfect heads to a single body have been found.

Only One Resident Is Living in "Ghost" Town

Degree, Colo.—Only one of the 6,000 persons who once sought gold in the rolling mining town of Nevada, high in the Colorado mountains 40 miles west of Denver, still lives in that ghost town.

He is Leonard Stibbel, an old-time miner who has "stuck on" now for 50 years. Even the mayor lives and works in Central City, a mile down the rocky gulch.

Eighteen years ago Nevada held its last election and selected a full complement of officers. Only three of the men chosen at that time are still living, and only one still serves in his official capacity.

He is John Doran, who with his hold-over privileges, actually is mayor, city clerk, assessor, treasurer, marshal, fire chief, and the board of trustees. The town still receives about $200 a year as its share of the taxes of Gilpin county. Each year the fund is spent in the same way.

Nichols is awarded a contract to maintain the road through the sleeping town. He is paid by warrants issued on the treasurer. Doran issues the warrant and signs it as mayor and town clerk and then countersigns it as the town treasurer.

Until three years ago there had been no one to pay the taxes in this "ghost" camp. So Gilpin county put the whole town on sale at auction, and the Quarts Hill Mining company bought it for $1,000.

Mexican State May Be Divorce Mecca for U. S.

Brownsville, Texas.—Faced with loss of their most important source of revenue if the move to repeal the Eighteenth amendment of the United States is successful, officials of the Mexican border state of Tamaulipas are planning to create a mecca for Americans seeking easy divorce.

The officials are considering a law which will provide divorces to Americans after 24 hours residence, provided the separation has been agreed to by both parties. If either party objects, a longer period of residence will be required and a higher fee charged.

It is said the law will make Mexicans ineligible for securing divorces under these short term agreements.

MODENA

Modena, Nov. 3.—Thursday afternoon of the past week the Ladies
Aid Society of the Modena Methodist Church held its regular meeting at the parsonage with Mrs. Robert Guice as hostess. Election of officers was held at this time, when Mrs.
Elsworth Miller was unanimously re-elected as president of the society, as was Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck as treasurer. Mrs. Emory Conklin was appointed as first vice president, Mrs.
George Dushner as second vice president, secretary, Mrs. Ward
Black to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Ira Hyatt. The December meeting will be held at
Miss Emma Palmer's in Ardona.
There will be no meeting in Novem-

Fable of Go-Tell-Him

By GEORGE ADE

ONCE there was a Knebel and a half of Trouble upset by the untimely demise of Aunt Hester Harback at the ripe old age of eighty-two. She came of the Harbacks you have heard about. Her Grandfather traded with the Indians and the Noble Red Men have been Paupers ever since.

In the thriving City of Wapahoo, where nearly all of the important Citizens moved in about 1840 before yesterday, the Harbacks stood out in gleaming Emigence like a stop-and-go signal on a frosty Night. They were Caracans entirely surrounded by Stogies. They were American Beauty Rooms nodding in Splendor above the lowly Chickweed. They were as near as we can come, with our limited Kilt of Tools, to a bona fide Aristocracy.

For many Years before Anne Hester departed, she reigned in solitary Splendor in the Baroque Castle which had been built by her Grandfather, the one who turned the Water into the River and then called all the desirable Real Estate. It was made of Brick, very large and cubical, with a high-browed Roof. The old Manse had become prohibitive but it contained a vast Supply of Heirlooms and Treasures—the kind for which Collectors sell their Souls. There was the gilt-framed Paintings of former Harbacks who gloried in Cameo Brooches and Stocks. Some of the Black Walnut had come over the Mountains in Ox-Wagons. The Silver dated back to the Time when Silver was a China Metal. The Crystal and the China were of the Kinds that say good Housekeeper likes to have around the House so that she can refer to them once in a while.

Queens With But a Single Throne. Aunt Hester had doted on Edward and Jennie, who were the Offspring of her brother, Tom Harback, the one who held the Mint Julep record north of the Ohio River. Soon after his aromatic Remains were planted in Fairview Cemetery the son Edward married Elizabeth Gibbs, whose Pa was a well-known Lous Shark and Reformer. Jennie hooked up with Rodney Derfingler who was due to inherit the Implement Works and had been sand-papered at a College in the East.

Lizzie Gibbs acquired the 18-karat Monicker of Harback and soon after began to feel different, as the Blue Corsettes coursed madly in her Pictorial Veins. Jennie had proved her real Love by assuming the Label of Derfingler but she was still a direct and genuine Lincal Descendant of the Rufus Harback who had double-crossed the Indians and copped the Government Land. She could not forget that she belonged to the only First Family in Town. Also she had great difficulty in forgetting that Ed's Wife, see Lizzie Gibbs, was the Daughter of a Grocery Clerk who acquired his Pile by nursing Chattel Mortgages and crying whenever he had to cut the Rate to Two Per Cent a Month.

Jennie and Lizzie got along like a couple of Bengals. The Trouble was that the Throes had not been built for Two. The Socially Elect could have but one Queen and she could sport but one Tiara. Jennie and Lizzie each had kidded herself into the belief that she was that Queen.

On the other hand, the two Consorts, Ed and Rod, were true and loving Pals. They were trying a Repeat of Damon and Pythias. They didn't give a Hoet for the Family Tree or the Society Column or the Factional Warfare at the Country Club or the Badge of Shame which had to be worn by any one who had not read Foster on Auction Bridge.

After it came out in the Will that Ed was to be Administrator and that the Contents of the Old Home were to be equally divided between Brother and Sister, there wouldn't have been a Kick or an Argument if the Boys had been permitted to make the fifty-fifty Split in their own Way. They would have gone through the Inventory and shaken High Dice for each item and cleaned up the whole List and no Hard Feelings.

Dividing the Spoils. Not so with Mrs. Ed and the favorite Niece who, long ago, had spotted the Articles she bankered for and then waited with Christian Resignation, for Aunt Hester to pop off. The very idea of a Lincal Gibbs coming in, from the Outside, and swiping any of the Harback Loot was altogether repugnant to Mrs. Derfingler.

So she told Rod to go to Ed and let him know that she wanted the Portraits of Grandpa and Grandma, the old Sideboard, the Sheffield and the Willow-Plate China because Aunt Hester had shown them to her a Thousand times if she had shown them to her once and just the same as said that some Day or other she wanted Jennie to have all of them.

So Rod went down and sat on the Edge of Ed's large Desk and said, "Well, Old-Timer, slip me the Red Keys."

"To begin with," said Ed, "my little Farmyard's idea is to go up to the House and pick out whatever she fancies, and when she gets her's, your Wife can take away the Lavatory. She has her Mind debilitated in up in regard to the Ancestors' made in Oil, that two-toes Silver, all of the English Silver and the Dishes that Aunt Hester always used on State Occasions. She tells me that I am the Hair-Apparent and the only Harback entitled to glorify the Tradition of the Tribe, so it is my Duty to move out Everything except the Curtains and the Sewing Machine."

"What, may I ask, is to be done?" "It is against the law to poison our Wives so I think we had better turn down the House."

Jennie was waiting for Rod. "Did you tell him just what Aunt Hester always expected me to have?" she asked.

"I sure did, Honey," he replied. "I had the Stuff listed and he knows now that we absolutely refuse to stand for any Monkey Business."

"What did he say?" "He said he'd have another Talk with Elizabeth. Leave everything to me."

As for Mrs. Ed, she was on her High Horse when he came home and tried to sneak upstairs without being spotted.

"I suppose," she said, "that the Derfingler Woman has got it into her Nut that she can go up there and clean out that House, even if you are Administrator and Aunt Hester always wanted you to keep the Family Collections intact."

The Best Way Out. "Listen, Jennie," said the Typhoid Husband, "I didn't mind Words. I laid down the Law to Rod and told him to give it straight to Jennie. There'll be no Shenanigans with your Uncle Fuller. I'll see that my Sister gets a fair Shake but whatever you think you want you sure will get. No body can tell me where to get off or how to head in. I'm a Tough Egg."

"You tell him that Aunt Hester left Everything in your Hands and you are going to stand on your Rights and have the Say-So," said Elizabeth. "Make it strong, because Rodney is a Weak Character and is absolutely dominated by Jennie, who has a lot of good Qualities but is very, very headstrong."

Came another day and another Conference impended. Mrs. Derfingler was giving Rod the Low Down and Inside on the fearful Crisis.

"I love my Brother," quoth she, "but Candor compels me to say that the Upstart who chloroformed him and carried him to the Altar had got the Indian Sign on him. The poor Fish will do whatever Lizzie orders him to do. She never saw a Butter Knife or a Desert Spoon until she crashed into our Family and now she wants to go up there and grab a lot of Silver that she wouldn't know how to lay out on the table. You tell him that I get all the Silver and the Family Gallery on the Landing and the Chippendale and the Old Silver and don't forget the Side-Board. She can have Everything in the Laundry. She'll know what to do with a Winger."

"Depend on me, Kid," said Mr. Derfingler. "I never lost a Battle." Down at the Office he found Ed painfully working on a Sheet of Foolscap.

"I handled the Old Lady's Affairs for Years," said Edward, "and I know her Writing like a Book. I am now preparing a Codicil dated September 19th, 1922, and witnessed by Mr. Snyder and Ernest Blootch, both of whom died last Year, bequeathing the Home and Contents to the Colonial Dames, to be used as a Club House."

"Friendship can go no further than that!" exclaimed Rodney Derfingler. "Can you get it through the Probate Court?"

"It's a Check. The Judge is one of us."

MORAL: Solomon saved his Reputation by never getting mixed up with a Bunch of Heirs.

Hearty Breakfasts in Days of Samuel Peppys
An insight into the means of American Colonial days is had in the immortal diary of Samuel Peppys, written 40 years after the Pilgrims had established their colony on the Atlantic coast. Peppys' London table, of course, had a greater variety of food than was available to the Colonists, but their diet was basically the same.

There were no "breakfast foods" in Samuel's time. Fruit juices were not considered as having food value, and were taken on rare occasions as the average person today takes an ice cream soda. Meats constituted not only the piece de resistance but practically the entire meal. He writes: "Breakfast at Mrs. Harper's upon a cold turkey pie and a goose" and "a fine breakfast of bread and butter and sweetmeats and other things with great choice, and strong drinks with which I could not avoid making my head ache." Shades of food faddists! The same Peppys should be forever synonymous with draperies.—Los Angeles Times.

Moths Live on Flowers
The hawk-moth, or the hummingbird-moth as it is sometimes called, is peculiarly fitted by nature to draw substance from flowers which, under ordinary circumstances, would be beyond the powers of an insect its size to feed upon. It has a fairly long spindly body with narrow, strong wings, but the peculiar feature about it is the sucking tube through which it draws its nourishment from the flowers. This tube is often twice the length of the body of the moth and when not in use it is curled up neatly like a watch spring and is carried beneath the head.

It is usually seen along about dusk, and its habit of hovering over plants emitting a humming sound gave it the name of the hummingbird-moth.

MEETING OF ROCK SCHOOL 4-H CLUB ON SATURDAY

Rifton, Nov. 4.—The Rock School 4-H Homemaking Club held its regular meeting in the school house on Saturday afternoon, October 29. The main event of this meeting was the election of new officers for the coming year. The following officers were elected: President, Sofia Pal-kowicz; vice president, Sofia Orlick; treasurer, Ethel Eckert; secretary, Kaarim Terro; song and cheer leader, Doris Wieren; news reporter, Emily Buzdygan. The new officers took their oath of office and the new president and secretary continued the meeting. The president appointed the following committees: Hospitality, Beatrice Bailey and Betty Kent; program, Olga Buzdygan and Kathryn Ambrose; membership, Emily Buzdygan and Ida Miller; record clerks, Betty Kent and Sofia Orlick.

After the business meeting the local leader, Miss Devine, explained some of the work which the third year members are to take up this year. They are to study room improvement.

At the next meeting some new members will be initiated. They are Helen Solmi, Ida Miller, Ruth and Elena Heloge.

A vote was carried to have a Halloween party at the school house for members of both clubs. A committee was appointed by the president to make arrangements for the party. They are Miss Devine, chairman, Olga Buzdygan, Beatrice Bailey and Doris Wieren.

The members also practiced for a play which will be given on Saturday, November 12, in the Rifton Hall. It is hoped there will be a large crowd in attendance.

On Tuesday, November 16, at 2:30, Mr. Joy will meet with the club members to arrange their program for the coming year.

ALLIGERVILLE
Alligerville, Nov. 3.—Several representative Republicans of Alligerville and Kyserlike attended the rally in Kingston last Saturday night.

The Halloween party held in the Reformed Church hall last Saturday evening, under the auspices of the Sunday school, was well attended and all had a jolly good time, which will long be remembered by the youngsters and older ones as well.

There were four generations of the Cross family gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary K. Cross Sunday. Among those present were Mrs. Mary K. Cross, great-grandmother, 87 years old, Virgil B. Cross, grandfather, John Sanford Cross, father, and last but not least, John Sanford, Jr., four weeks old.

Mrs. Mary E. Atkins very pleasantly entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid Wednesday afternoon. There were fourteen members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Houghtaling of Marlborough were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Steen, Sunday.

A Halloween masquerade was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hall Saturday evening.

The Rev. Ralph DeGroot and family are visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Philip DeGroot.

Bertram Evans and wife of Albany were guests at the Evans home Sunday.

Mrs. Chester Osterhoudt's brothers, Andrew and Elwood Worden, and their wives from Middletown, spent the week-end with their sister and family. The men enjoyed the hunt and from the game they brought in proved to be experienced marksmen. There were squirrels, pheasants, rabbits and one fox.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Barley were guests of Mrs. Mary Schoonmaker last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Joseph Bogart and two children, Warry and Irene, have been visiting in Millbrook, Dutchess county, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ploos.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Roosa were callers in Alligerville Sunday evening.

Republicans Turn Out Big In 4th Ward

A large number of men and women voters gathered at the Polk-American Club, Delaware Avenue, Wednesday night to listen to the fine array of speakers secured by the Fourth Ward Republican Club on the occasion of its third meeting.

Among those who addressed the assembled members were Andrew J. Cook, Judge Charles De La Vergne, former Mayor Walter P. Crane, Alfred Schmid, president of the Welfare Board, John Saxe, candidate for sheriff and Frank Leirey, vice president of the City Republican Club.

The speakers gave interesting talks on the accomplishments of the present national administration, the tariff and prohibition questions. It was made clear that the Democratic platform, although professing to be wet, that party and its principles in certain parts of the country are exceedingly dry. An instructive account by Mr. Cook of many of the duties resting upon a Justice of the Supreme Court was much appreciated. He illustrated decisions rendered by that court which proved conclusively that it was non-partisan and that politics played no part in its deliberations. A very high tribute was paid to the character, ability and fairness of Judge Harold J. Hittman, the present incumbent of the office.

William J. Donovan was extolled for his remarkable record as a soldier, statesman and man. He was described as a remarkable and economic statesman with the courage of his convictions.

Judge De La Vergne spoke interestingly of the national, state and county candidates, giving excellent reasons why they should be elected.

Alfred Schmid outlined the provisions of the proposed bond issue for $20,000,000 for relief work embraced in proposition No. 1, warning the voters to be careful not to confuse it with Amendment No. 1, an entirely different question.

Mr. Crane told of his acquaintance with the candidates for county offices and their singular fitness for the offices to which they aspired. He recommended them to the voters for favorable consideration.

Mr. Saxe spoke briefly and in his usual happy vein, promising to give close attention to the duties of sheriff if the people saw fit to elect him. Judging by the applause he received, Mr. Saxe made a very favorable impression on the audience.

Frank Leirey gave an instructive and practical talk on what would result in many instances which would be to the disadvantage to the people in general if the Democratic candidates in the nation and state attained power.

The President of the club, Michael J. Powers, announced that the next meeting of the organization would be held Monday night, November 7, at 8 o'clock. Prominent speakers will address the gathering. All are invited.
